SIXTEEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

ROOSEVELT MAY MAKE SEVERAL CAMPAIGN TRIPS

Will Visit Midwest, Rocky Mountain Areas

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Plans for a series of short presidential campaign trips that will center the Democratic drive in New England, the middle west and the Rocky Mountain areas were discussed today by President Roosevelt and 27 of his chief political lieutenants.

Several conferees said dates had not been selected, but that they had gathered the impression the president would make more than a half dozen major addresses.

Cities mentioned included Omaha, Denver, Chicago, Detroit, New York and perhaps Worcester or Springfield, Mass.

There was a further possibility that the president would make speaking dates for Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo, Albany, Rochester and Boston.

Although Mr. Roosevelt has had under consideration a trip to the west coast, chances for such a swing were described today as remote. Some of his political advisers said none of the jaunts would take more than five days for the round trip.

Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee, spokesman for the array of some of the party's best political talent, told reporters:

"We had a general discussion on the entire political situation and the president was immensely pleased with the reports submitted by those who were present."

"We discussed his future activities and in a general way he presented his ideas as to the condition of the campaign in recent weeks."

He added that any definite announcement as to the president's plans for speaking trips would be made later by Mr. Roosevelt, but that he did not know whether one might be expected in advance of an address scheduled next Tuesday at Syracuse, N. Y., before the state Democratic convention.

Mahatma Gandhi Will Not Leave India Villages

Will Continue First Hand Study of Disease-ridden Villages

Bombay, India, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Mahatma Gandhi, only recently recovered from a malaria attack, tonight pledged himself to die rather than abandon first hand study of disease-ridden villages in India.

Despite doctors' warnings that he might suffer a relapse if he did not seek a more healthful climate, the Mahatma insisted he would continue to live in Segon, all of whose 600 inhabitants suffer either malaria or dysentery.

"The village problem," the Mahatma said quietly, "may not be put off even at the cost of my very existence. Nothing must interrupt my instruction and first-hand experience."

"I am a Fatalist, and I believe that no one may put off the hour of death when it strikes."

The Mahatma said he regretted even the time he recently spent in a hospital recovering from his illness, as he believed it had denied him an opportunity to know the dangers of living in disease-infested Indian villages.

Wells Writes Own Obituary

H. G. Wells, famed English author, just turned 70, will die at 97, his fortune of $1,000,000 gone—according to his obituary, written by himself and just made public in London. In whimsical vein, the noted writer discounted his accomplishments and expressed doubt that he would be long remembered.

Woman Denies She Fired Shots That Killed Mate

Mrs. Melba Straub Takes Witness Stand Before Federal Master

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Melba Straub, widow of Louis K. Straub, slain mysteriously in the basement of the exclusive Saddle and Cycle club Feb. 3 1935, denied from the witness stand in a federal Master in Chancery's chambers today that she fired the fatal shots.

The Master, Jacob I. Grosman, is hearing a civil action to determine whether Mrs. Straub or her late husband's brother, Ernest, manager of the club, and his two nephews should receive $20,410 insurance on the victim's life. The slaying has never been solved.

Attorney Theodore Hardeen, Jr., counsel for Ernest Straub, sought to have the widow's claim set aside on the ground she was not entitled to the money under Illinois law because, he charged, "she shot and killed" her husband.

Mrs. Straub stepped to the witness stand shortly before the hearing adjourned, after a witness testifying in her behalf had asserted that Straub had been mysteriously shot at nine years before his death and apparently "lived in fear of some woman."

Previously Henry Hoidge, night clerk at a north side hotel where Straub was living in 1926, testified as to the slain club bartender's fear of "some woman."

Father Coughlin Opens An Attack On Communism

Declares Red Flag Has Been Uplifted In America

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin attacked Communism tonight with an assertion that "the red flag has been uplifted in America; we must stop, look and listen lest disaster confront us."

"In every nation," he told a rally of the national union for social justice, "there is a growing tendency to overthrow the traditions of the past and supplant liberties, hard earned through the centuries, with a new form of social government and a new attitude towards our fellow men and our creator."

"What is transpiring on the streets of Madrid was looked upon seven months ago as an impossibility by those who thought that Red Russia would remain north of the Baltic."

"Red Russia does not remain quiet or inactive. Red Russia has promised an international revolution."

William Lemke, Union Party candidate for the presidency, preceded Father Coughlin with an assertion that "President Roosevelt is now talking about crop insurance when there has been a crop insurance bill before the house since he entered the White House, and he blocked it."

Lemke said he referred to a measure of which he was the author, intended to give the farmer the cost of production plus a "reasonable profit."

Adrian, Mich., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Charles Goss, 52, of Olney, Ill., fell from a sulky while driving his horse in a harness race at the Lenawee county fairgrounds today and died a few minutes later.

Other drivers said Goss apparently was the victim of a heart attack because they saw his head drop on his chest before he tumbled to the ground.

RECOVERS FROM ILLNESS
Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, able to be up and about again after a week's illness of influenza, probably will leave the white house tomorrow to join her husband at Hyde Park, N. Y.

FASCISTS WILL NOT BOMBARD BILBAO, SPAIN

Defenders Place 4,000 Prisoners Where They Would Be Targets

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 25.—(Friday)—(By warship to Saint Jean De Luz)—(AP)—A threatened Fascist bombardment of this northern coastal city, scheduled for 1 a. m. today, failed to occur after the defenders had placed 4,000 prisoners near points which were expected to be targets of the attacks.

Gen. Emilio Mola, commanding the Fascists in this region, had given warning his forces would attack Bilbao from land, sea and air unless the defenders surrendered.

Observers here believed bombardments from the sea and the air were possible but it was thought the Fascist troops were too far away for a land offensive. The insurgent cruiser Velasco was outside the harbor and Fascist planes had circled over the city during the week.

The populace was calm as the announced deadline arrived and the Peoples front leaders were defiant, rejecting the attempts of a representative of the International Red Cross to save the prisoners held in Bilbao if the Fascists attacked.

Three hostage ships were brought close to the aviation field and the munitions plant, which officials believed would be sure targets of the Fascists if they bombarded the city.

The move meant virtual death sentences for at least some of the prisoners from their fellows' own shells if an attack were made.

Dr. Marcel Junod, representing the International Red Cross organization at Geneva, pleaded vainly with the government leaders here for the lives of the hostages.

The city's war commissar refused to accept Junod's proposal that the boats and prisoners be put under Red Cross control and clearly marked.

Jasper Davis Wins Spitting Contest At Fisherville, Va.

Takes Generous "Chaw" Of Tobacco and Hits Bull's Eye at 12 Ft. 9 Inches

Fisherville, Va., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Jasper Davis, bronzed and robust Fisherville farmer, successfully battled a high wind here today to win the title of "spitting" man in South River district.

Taking a generous "chaw" from his hip-pocket plug, Davis scored a bull's eye at 12 feet 9 inches to lead the field by a full inch.

Bill Barton, who prefers the tobacco twist, expostulated mightily but lacked accuracy beyond 12 feet 8 inches.

The wind was too much for Jake Kiblinger, another veteran, whose best efforts were far short of the leaders. He claimed third place with a measured range of 8 feet 9 inches.

Prim maids and housewives discreetly retired to the fancy work departments of the Fisherville community fair, while the contestants warmed up for their battle for one of the most cherished titles in the district.

A crowd of admiring men and boys—backs to the wind—looked on, but the champion received little acclaim from the housewives. They said the contestants were less accurate at home.

State Jobholders In Red Uniforms

Decatur, Illinois, Sept. 24.—(AP)—

State Rep. Richard J. Lyons (Rep. Liberty) threatened in a campaign address today to introduce a bill which would require all state jobholders to wear red uniforms.

Lyons remark was made during a criticism of the administration of Gov. Henry Horner, whom he accused of maintaining a state payroll larger than needed.

"I'd probably never get the bill passed, but if I did it would put a stop to payroll padding," Lyons said.

He said he would introduce the bill if the governor "dared" to call another special session of the legislature.

"Furthermore, the people could see who the payrollers are," Lyons added.

"I tell you folks, around the Chicago city hall it would look like red square in Moscow when the army marches."

OPEN AMPHITHEATER
Tuscola, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—This city of 2,600 population will have an open amphitheater seating nearly twice its number of inhabitants, the city council has decided.

Mayor George O. Land said today 3,000 cubic yards of earth will be required for grading in Fern Park, where the concrete seats will be constructed. The amphitheater will have a capacity of 5,000.

The improvement will be financed by funds raised at the recent three-day homecoming, when 33,800 persons passed through the gates.

Landon Pledges Protection Of The American Market For The American Farmer

Landon Highlights

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon pledged "protection of the American market for the American farmer" tonight after telling a cheering Minnesota throng that New Deal reciprocal trade agreements have "sold the American farmer down the river."

"We have got to stop destroying the market of our farmers," the presidential nominee said, adding:

"The way to trade is to trade and let me tell you this—we Republicans are going to trade, not against, but in the interest of American producers. In too many of the present agreements we are the fellow who got the short end of the stick."

The Kansas spoke to a crowd that overflowed the 10,000 seating capacity of the block-long city auditorium. More than 15 minutes before his appearance, police were forced to close the doors as the throng jammed horse-shoe galleries up to the rafters.

A five-minute standing ovation greeted his appearance on a broad stage decorated with sunflowers and red, white and blue draperies. Yellow squares of papers marked "Landon" fluttered down on the crowd.

Broken frequently by applause, Landon said he was opposed "to a policy of isolation." Explaining:

"A healthy international trade is essential to world prosperity. xxx World prosperity is good insurance against war."

"At a time like the present, when economic nationalism is rampant, we cannot afford to scrap our economic defenses. We can be a good neighbor without giving away the latchkey to our door."

"The great enemy of world trade today xxx is the war-inspired doctrine of isolation and its resulting demands for self-sufficiency. xxx We must not join in this kind of madness."

"The administration was trying to hold down the nation's supply of meat by restricting the production of hogs. xxx Yet it proceeded to make concessions on Canadian cattle that would bring more of them into this country. Such a program just doesn't make sense."

"We are now one of the largest importers not only of those things we do not produce but of those we are adapted to produce. This is a scandalous situation."

"Reciprocity is valuable only when non-competing commodities are to be exchanged between two nations concerned. xxx When it is made with a competitor, one side or the other is almost certain to lose."

Indict Official For Violation Of Anti-slavery Law

Accused of Obtaining Farm Labor Thru False Arrests

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A federal grand jury investigating reports of peonage in the East Arkansas Cotton Belt indicted a city official today on charges of violating the United States anti-slavery laws by obtaining laborers for his farm through false arrests.

The indictment named City Marshal Paul D. Peacher of Earle, Ark., a cotton planter and former deputy sheriff of Crittenden county, on eight counts alleging violation of a law enacted in 1865 just after the war between the states.

U. S. District Attorney Fred Isgrig said the charge specifically was "aiding and abetting in holding slavery."

After the grand jury was discharged, Isgrig joined Gordon Dean, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, and Richard P. Shanahan, attorney for the criminal division of the federal bureau of investigation, who were in charge of the inquiry, in announcing steps had been taken to protect all witnesses before the grand jury from intimidation.

Only a few hours before the federal grand jurors completed their work, the Crittenden county grand jury returned a report denying that any peonage conditions existed in that section.

Peacher's bond was fixed at $5,000, but he was not immediately taken in to custody.

Shanahan said, "The eight counts charged Peacher with falsely charging eight Negroes with vagrancy and bringing them before Mayor Mitchell in justice court at Earle where they were illegally convicted and sentenced to work on Peacher's farm for his own use and benefit."

Isgrig withheld the names of the eight Negroes involved, asserting "I don't want them intimidated."

"The truth of the matter is the investigation involved 20 to 25 Negroes railroaded on trumped up charges," said the prosecutor.

kind for the Browns," he said.

Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Larry S. MacPhail, resigned vice-president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, denied today he had made any offers for the purchase of the St. Louis Browns.

"I haven't made any offer of any kind for the Browns," he said.

"My resignation does not take effect until Nov. 1 and I am not giving any thought to future plans at this time. I do not expect to make any commitments of any kind in baseball in the near future."

MUST LEASE STORES
Berlin, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Jewish drug-gists today were given until Oct. 1 to lease their stores to "Aryans." They will be allowed to remain as silent partners, but they must not actively manage the pharmacies.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO PROBE MINE BOMBINGS

Federal Government Takes Hand In The Investigation

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Runners that past coalfield bombings were under federal investigation were revived today with the arrival from Washington of four special prosecutors.

With the federal grand jury expected to be in session several weeks, the district attorney said the investigation involved "certain alleged violations of the federal anti-trust laws."

In conferences at the federal building were Sam E. Whitaker, Walter L. Rice, John P. Claggett and Gwyn Harper, from the department of justice. The first three are special assistants to the attorney general and Harper a special attorney.

Federal agents and other investigators have been active in Illinois for two years as the result of a long series of dynamitings, during which several trains were wrecked and mine tunnels damaged, in the central and southern county coal areas. The violence followed a union split that resulted in the formation of dual unions and subsequent rioting.

Howard L. Doyle, district attorney, today said the bombings stopped since it was rumored several months ago that the federal government was planning to prosecute.

It was explained that anti-trust violation cases are customarily handled by the department of justice's anti-trust and criminal divisions.

The understanding was that train bombings could be readily prosecuted under the criminal section of the anti-trust statutes. In some cases mail trains were delayed.

"The investigation will be directed strictly to individuals who are alleged to have violated such laws, contrary to rumors that organizations may be involved," a formal statement said.

Last spring part of the records of the Progressive Miners of America, dual union, were brought before a federal grand jury.

Although silent about their plans, the special attorneys apparently had made elaborate preparations for the case. A large number of witnesses were expected to appear before the grand jury, which convened Tuesday.

Witness At Black Legion Trial Is Given Protection

Testifies He Was Present At Meeting Before Man Was Killed

Detroit, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Emerson Becker, a Black Legion member who said "my life isn't worth two cents now" after he had testified against 12 men charged with lynching Charles Poole, was given police protection today.

Becker testified he attended a Black Legion meeting a few hours before Poole was shot to death May 12, that he heard members of the hooded band shout that Poole should be killed, and that he saw a patrol of the night riders return to the meeting hall with the victim.

His version of the events preceding the "execution" was substantially the same as that of Dayton Dean, the confessed "trig" leader in the case, and contradicted the stories of the defendants who have taken the stand to dispute Dean's allegations.

"I told the truth there on the witness stand," Becker said. "I had to violate the legion oath to do it. There were some legion men in the courtroom and I know it. My life isn't worth two cents. I was a member, you know. They'll get me."

While Becker was testifying, police traced down Elmer Anderson, who disappeared yesterday as Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moylan was preparing the jury charges against him as a result of his testimony for the defense, Anderson was arrested.

Becker said he attended the May 12 Black Legion meeting with Anderson.

Chicken Picking Derby Is Planned

Richmond, Va., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The feathers are flying, and so are the challenges, and out of the furor is about to emerge a chicken-picking derby in Richmond.

It started when "Ducky" Earle Williams, negro market employee, picked a chicken in 40 seconds by a reporter's watch, and claimed the championship.

Two others of Williams' race and profession made quick reply.

"Ah, so would like to race dat boy up in de Sixth Street Market—boy, I'd show him a thing or two about dis profession," exclaimed Alfred Canada, speaking for himself and John Pleasant.

And to prove they could qualify, the ducks pair defeathered their fowls in 13 seconds flat by a stop-watch.

Employers of the rivals have consented to a contest, but the date and place have not been set.

Frank Knox Ends Western Campaign At Denver, Colo.

Declares High Cost of Living Overshadows Nation's Recovery

Denver, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, wound up his western campaign tour tonight by asserting high living costs overshadow the nation's recovery.

Before this, in a Colorado Springs luncheon address, Knox made the first direct attack of his campaign, calling him "a man drunk with power."

Declaring a division of powers and local self-government was the basic purpose of the constitution, Knox said:

"Within the last three years we have seen a man drunk with power, try to break down these two fundamental principles. You have seen him seek to allocate to himself all legislative authority."

"You have seen him reduce to a rubber stamp the Congress of the United States. You have seen the contempt in which he has sought to bring decisions of the Supreme Court. You have seen a man seeking to break down this division of power and take it upon himself—yes, and confess it."

"He said to us in January, in my message to Congress, that they had created new instruments of power which, in other hands, might be fatal to the peoples' liberty."

"I warn you to be on your guard. Silently in the night they are creeping up, seeking to impose upon us, before we realize it, a new and alien kind of government."

Governor Names Arbitrator To Settle Strike

Employees of Illinois Power and Light Company May Walkout

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A strike in 60 or more Illinois towns by employees of the Illinois Power and Light company was threatened tonight, the state department of labor announced, as Gov. Henry Horner sought to avert the strike call by the appointment of an arbitrator.

Dean Albert J. Harno of the University of Illinois Law School at Urbana, was chosen by the governor to attempt to arbitrate differences between the Power company and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Tonight the State Department of Labor officials were trying to communicate with union officers to see whether the governor's action would postpone the strike call, which the department said had been threatened for tomorrow.

Employees of the Power company went on strike for more than a month in the spring of 1935, tying up gas and electric service in several Illinois towns.

When an agreement was reached to settle the controversy a contract was signed that was to be reopened for new negotiations in August of this year.

However, efforts to reach an agreement over the new contract have been balked by arguments over labor conditions and wage scales, the Labor Department said.

No publicity has been given the disputes, and not until tonight was it known that any serious trouble threatened, and then it came through the appeal of the Department of Labor to the governor to help avert the strike.

Bankers Favor Less Spending

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The American Bankers' association today advocated less spending by federal, state and local governmental agencies.

In resolutions adopted at the closing session of their 62nd annual convention the bankers said the nation's "fundamental credit" is sound and conceded the necessity of great emergency expenditures but added that budget balancing is "the prime consideration of a sound fiscal policy."

The bankers said they considered budget balancing "essential as an assurance to business that our national finances are on firm foundations, and that business and industrial enterprise are justified in going ahead with expansion of their activities, which is the surest method to create greater employment for workers of all classes."

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A Copeland Callan of Urbana, Ill., president of Kiwanis International, today urged the 17th annual Nebraska-Today convention of Kiwanis Clubs here to keep to the forefront in a "crusade for service."

"Success," he said, "is a journey without an end, not a destination. Success is a capacity for service."

"With our crew of more than 90,000 members, inspired as they are to service, I can predict nothing but the best results."

CRUSADE FOR SERVICE

Sloux City, Ia., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A

Copeland Callan of Urbana, Ill., president of Kiwanis International, today urged the 17th annual Nebraska-Today convention of Kiwanis Clubs here to keep to the forefront in a "crusade for service."

"Success," he said, "is a journey without an end, not a destination. Success is a capacity for service."

"With our crew of more than 90,000 members, inspired as they are to service, I can predict nothing but the best results."

PREDICT VOTE ON WET, DRY ISSUE IN 1938

Anti-Saloon League Cites Victories In Elections

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A prediction the wet and dry issue would be placed before the voters of Illinois again in a state-wide referendum in 1938 was made today by Charles Haffke of Chicago, state superintendent of the anti-saloon league.

Addressing the annual Southern Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, the anti-saloon league executive declared since repeal a definite reaction had set in against the "liquor traffic."

"This is evidenced," he said, "by 500 successful local option elections held downstate since repeal and 142 precincts which have voted dry in Chicago. We are looking forward to a state-wide referendum in 1938 on public policy toward the liquor traffic."

He called on the delegates to stress local option elections in every section and offered the cooperation of his organization, saying, "We have already received requests for help from over 400 places where elections will be held next spring."

Haffke charged the Democratic party with having broken its platform pledge to "actually promote temperance and effectively prevent the return of the saloon."

"The record," he said, "shows every vestige of regulation and control built up by Christian people through years of effort has been torn down and demolished."

In Chicago alone, he asserted, 6,815 saloons were operating with federal licenses but without state permits.

Attendance at today's session of the conference was increased to an estimated 1,200 with the presence of lay delegates.

A proposal to merge the north and south branches of the church, which had been endorsed by the ministerial delegates yesterday, received the unanimous approval of the laymen at their annual meeting. The vote was 138 to 0.

All officers of the lay conference were reelected. They were: Leonard Carson, Lebanon, president; J. C. Hindman, Herrin, vice-president; and Fred G. Rauschkolb, East St. Louis, secretary-treasurer.

Trees on The Farm

While a good deal of criticism has been directed at the idea of planting a shelter belt of trees across the west half of the United States from the Canadian line to Texas as a remedy for droughts, another plan which may be a sort of step-child to the former, is getting more widespread approval. It is said that the one thing which most impressed President Roosevelt in his recent trip through the drought states was the absence of trees on thousands of farms. Even the home site was in innumerable cases left unsheltered by an attempt to plant trees for the protection from winds and dust storms.

President Roosevelt passed through Morgan county on that trip. From our knowledge of the farm lands bordering the route he took, he saw no farms entirely barren of trees. But many tracts in Illinois have been almost entirely shorn of trees. This section of the state would be better off if it had more groves, even if they were not large.

The idea of having a grove as a site for one's home is as old as western civilization, but it may have modern adaptations. The early settlers who moved into Illinois, the Prairie State, usually selected a spot near a grove to build their cabin. Later their settlements spread over the wide prairies.

The federal forest service is now planning to set out millions of young trees—not in a straight line from north to south across the western plains; but a few in properly arranged groups on every farm of the western plains. Several states of the west are cooperating in distributing seedlings to the farmers, and some ten years from now a future president traveling over the states where the drought has been so destructive, may find millions of growing trees standing like sentinels around the homes of farm families.

The federal government is undertaking a job that any farmer can do. It takes no great amount of time or trouble to set out free shade trees. Many of the fine groves that once surrounded Morgan county farm homes have disappeared. They have been felled, chopped up and almost forgotten. Now that the government is urging a tree planting program, it would be an opportune time to partially restore some of the groves. We have heard persons express regret when a tree was cut down, but have never heard anyone say he was sorry that he planted a tree.

Illinois' High Court

Widespread attention is often drawn to deliberations of the United States supreme court, for decisions of that body have had an important bearing on federal legislation for the past three years. No less important to the citizens of Illinois will be the deliberations of the Illinois supreme court in its session to begin October 6.

Several acts bearing on the validity of the Illinois sales tax are due for consideration of the court. One such test case has to do with the sales tax as applied to telephone service. The sum of two million dollars is at stake in this particularly case.

A number of municipalities are protesting against application of the sales tax to municipal water and electric service, and suits involving this question are before the court.

School teachers of Chicago are pressing a suit against the law requiring compulsory retirement of teachers at the age of 65 years. This case, also, is on the supreme court's docket at this time.

The court's docket includes at the coming session, as in every previous sitting, criminal cases in which the life or death of certain condemned persons is at stake.

The United States supreme court's rulings affect the nation as a whole. The state supreme court is a legalistic balance wheel for Illinois, equally as important in proportion. The questions it considers are closer home.

Invisible Taxes

When Attorney General Cummings warned that it was a violation of the law for a merchant to tell his customers that a part of the price they paid for merchandise goes to the government in taxes, he stirred up a furore that is still reverberating throughout the country. Many believe that instead of prosecuting a merchant in such a case, the law should require that every article of merchandise be plainly labeled within the amount of tax which is charged against it.

The Dallas, Texas, Journal, discussing the threat made by government officials, points out that it is desirable that tax information be made available so that the average citizen will realize that he bears the greater part of the cost of government. The Texas newspaper had to say:

"Just why it should be against public policy to discuss taxes or to make the ultimate taxpayer aware of how much the Government is costing him is indeed a mystery. Sound public policy ought to require every price tag to show precisely how much of the cost of every article to the customer actually is due to the exactions of Government. Indeed, until the common man is made to know that he bears the greater part of the cost of government, the element of responsibility in Democratic self-rule will not be restored to its proper place in America."

"The man or the party who tried to conceal from the consumer the cost of governing the country is no true Democrat, because he is unwilling to leave the voter the facts which the voter ought to know, in order to determine how his vote shall be cast. To be sure, some dealers will lie about taxes, but the truth is the best answer to a lie. Mr. Michelson's proposal to boycott a merchant who has a blackboard showing the tax mulct on shoes or ships or sealing wax is an act of political cowardice. Mr. Michelson's office can find ways to tell the truth about taxation. For example, here is some: Actual taxation is believed to call for from 20c to 25c out of every dollar spent in this country. Taxation by the Federal Government is now sufficient to meet about one half of its expenditures. If Washington were on a pay-as-you-go basis now—if the budget were balanced—total taxation in this country would probably call for almost one third of the consumer's dollar."

Both Sides of the Campaign

Kentucky Senator Declares New Deal Financing Is Sound

By ALBEN W. BARKLEY
United States Senator from Kentucky

In the consideration of public as well as private indebtedness we must consider the condition of the debtor, his income in proportion to debt, and the interest required to be paid on the debt.

Let us assume that in 1933 a man—for convenience we will call him a Mr. Hoover—had an income of $2,084 per year. His indebtedness on which he was required to pay interest amounted to $22,539.

Let us assume that in 1936 another man—for convenience call him a Mr. Roosevelt—had an income of $4,116 per year, and owed $33,779 on which he was required to pay interest.

Our Mr. Hoover, considered by many to be an admirably cautious business man, had not hesitated to assume a debt which was more than 10 times his annual income in 1933.

But for 1936 this Mr. Roosevelt to whom we have referred, is indebted in an amount only seven times his annual income.

On account of the generally more healthy state of his business Mr. Roosevelt was able to reduce his interest charges during the past summer to slightly more than 2 1/2 per cent; but Mr. Hoover back in 1933, in spite of his intimate friendship with numerous bankers, had been required to pay almost 3 1/2 per cent on his loans.

The result of this situation is that Mr. Hoover's interest charges in 1933 amounted to $839 per year, while Mr. Roosevelt's in 1936 are $749 per year.

Mr. Hoover's income was three times his interest charges. But Mr. Roosevelt's income is FIVE AND ONE-HALF times his interest charges.

Simpler Mathematics

The mathematics of this proposition cannot be denied. No amount of partisan politics can change it. As you have probably surmised, the Mr. Hoover to whom I am referring was president of the United States. The Mr. Roosevelt referred to now occupies that high station. The figures I have used represent the millions and billions of government debt, interest revenue and government interest charges taken from the treasury statements and reduced to the simpler terms of thousands, to make them comprehensible to the man of moderate means and ordinary financial experience.

Not only can any banker understand the last comparison which I have made, but any investor who has ever read a prospectus or examined a corporate balance sheet should not be only be able to understand but to rejoice. Under President Roosevelt the government's income, its tax revenues from all sources were 5 1/2 times the government's interest charges.

Under President Hoover, though on a smaller net debt, the interest charges were only smaller in actual amount by some 60 million dollars, but the income out of which they had to be paid was only three times their amount. In other words, although as a result of the depression President Roosevelt has been compelled to increase the national debt to a net amount about equal to the increase under Mr. Hoover, yet the income of the treasury under Mr. Roosevelt is 5 1/2 times the government's interest charges, while under Mr. Hoover it was only three times these charges, notwithstanding Mr. Hoover's increase in taxes during his administration.

Claims Superb Finance

The criterion by which every lender and every wise investor judges an enterprise is this ratio of earnings to interest. There is no more reliable index of economic health in any business than this criterion. In business it is as important as the doctor's thermometer and the pulse count in measuring physical health. Alongside this showing, as indicated above, the screams of some of the recovering industrial and financial patients, is the effect that our government is plunging headlong into overwhelming debt, are nothing but hysteria, any wise medical man recognizes and ignores them.

The superb health which is indicated in our government's financial system at this time is fully demonstrated by a comparison of its status with similar ratios among private corporations.

In order that comparisons may not become odious, we may take a summary of some corporate ratios published in the middle of August by one of the foremost statistical organizations in the United States. Though not parallel, the comparison between corporations' net incomes to their fixed charges is close enough for the purposes of this illustration.

A summary of 403 industrial corporations over a period of years shows that in prosperous times their net incomes averaged as much as 10 times their fixed charges, to wit: interest. By 1931, however, these same corporations netted only slightly more than three times their interest charges. In 1932 their net income was less than one-half their interest charges.

Says Industry Improved

But in 1933, after 10 months of the Roosevelt administration, their net incomes were back to four times their interest charges; in 1934 the ratio was almost 6 to 1, and in 1935 it had climbed back to 10 to 1.

Utilities, hitherto generally regarded as more stable than industries, show an even more remarkable record in comparison with that of the government. Even in the prosperous times of 1928 and 1929, the ratio of utility net income to fixed charges seldom exceeded 3 to 2. Utilities net income for 22 companies dropped below fixed charges in 1932. But these companies have been slowly recovering. The net income for this same group in 1935 was almost equivalent to interest.

And when we compare the government debt of the United States with other great government debts, the sane conservatism of the Roosevelt fiscal policies shines out like a good deed in a wicked world.

It is difficult to obtain figures of government revenues of foreign countries comparable in accuracy to our own. So this comparison is made between debt and the best estimates of total national income instead of actual government revenue. On this basis the British national debt is about 175 per cent of the British national income. The French national debt is almost double France's national income.

Based on comparable estimates the gross debt of the United States government is only slightly more than one-half our estimated annual national income.

Denounces Debt Scare

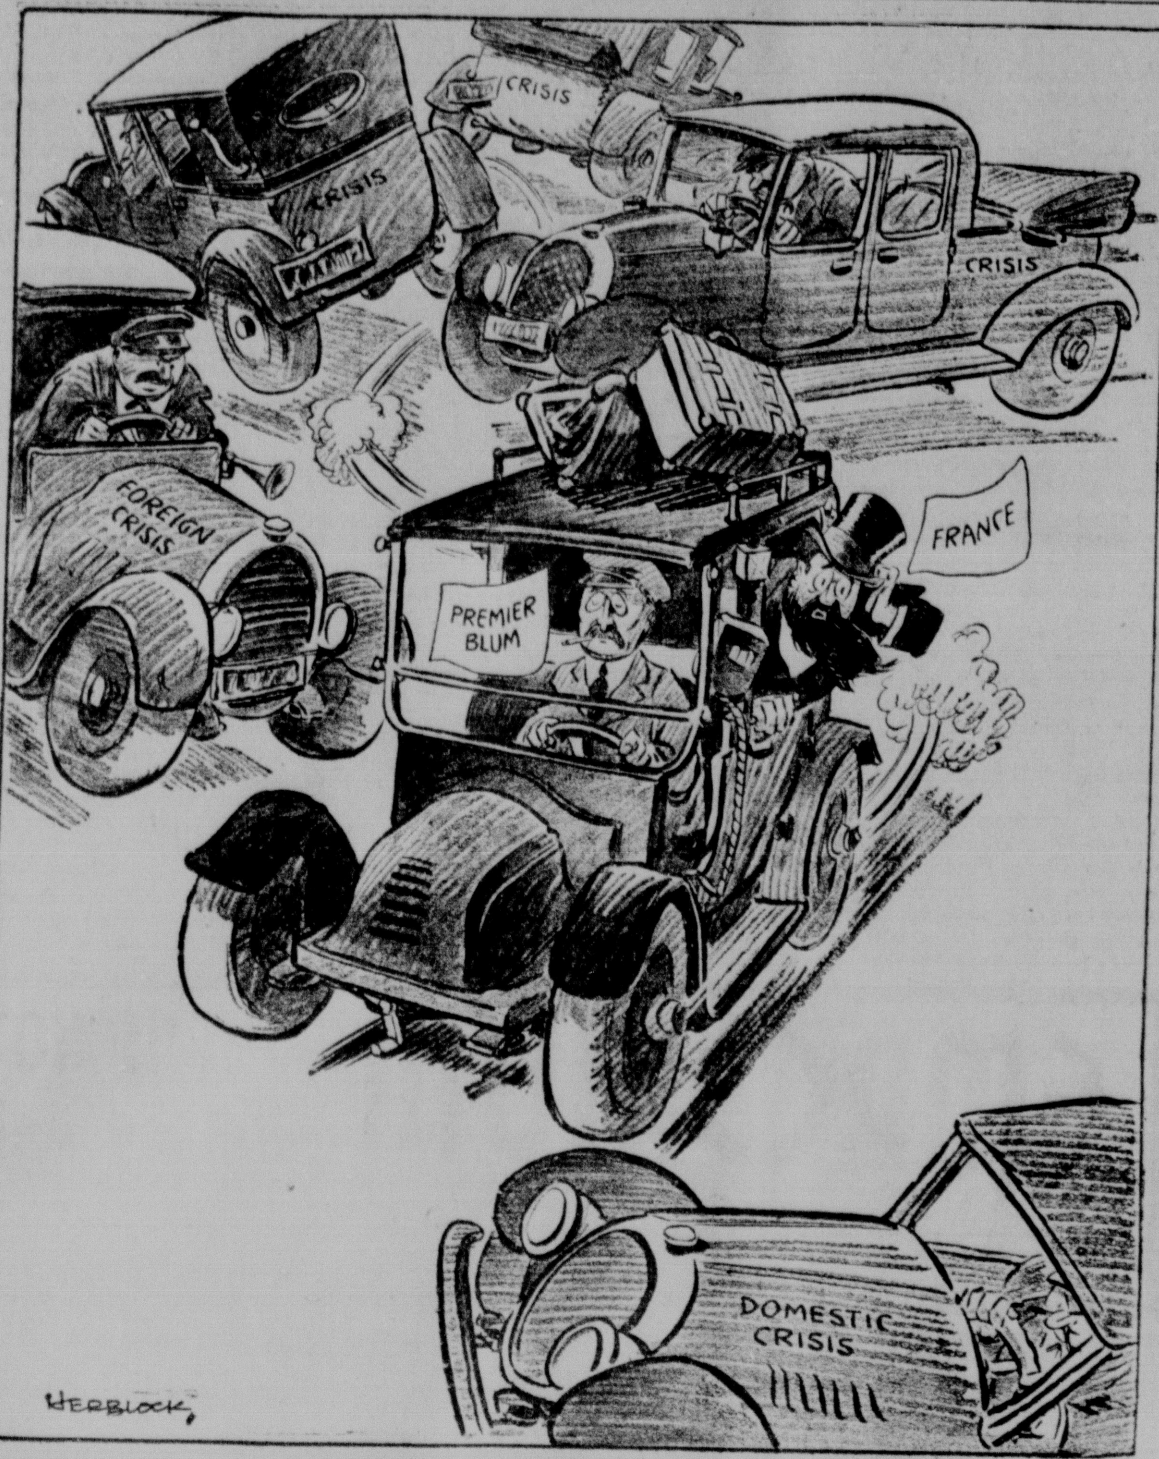

It will be readily understood, therefore, how utterly false is the assumption by those who wish to make political capital that we are heaping upon ourselves or upon our children an indebtedness which is out of proportion to our wealth, our population, and our earning capacity.

It ought also to be stated that while, as a result of the depression, the debt of the United States government has been increased by about 10 billion dollars, the total national indebtedness, public and private, corporate and individual has been decreased by about 20 billion dollars. We cannot talk about the indebtedness of the American people simply by referring to the debt of the United States government. This constitutes only a small proportion of our total indebtedness.

The total indebtedness is made up of all forms of public and private debts, not only federal but state, county, municipal and district. It includes all outstanding bonds of private corporations and of public agencies. It also includes indebtedness of farms and homes, and mortgages on real estate of every character.

When we consider that the financial policies of the Roosevelt administration have been instrumental in reducing the total indebtedness of the American people by more than 20 billion dollars, we have no cause to worry over an increase of 10 billion dollars in the debt of the United States government, especially in view of the fact that the government's income is 5 1/2 times the interest charges upon the increased indebtedness.

Cold, Hot Packs Useful in Treating Both Nosebleed and 'Black Eye'

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The nose, as an organ of the human body, has received at least a fair share of attention in literature, including medical literature. It seems to be always in front where it is subject to a good deal of wear and tear. For that reason, nosebleeds are a common condition, following either a purposeful "sock" or a collision with a door in the dark.

One of the first steps in stopping a nosebleed is to make the bleeder lie flat, preferably with his face down. Ice water, or hot water, may be applied to the nose, or it may be temporarily packed with sterile gauze.

It will not help very much, except in distracting the patient's attention, to pass a key down his back, make him inhale smoke, put ice on the back of his neck, or collect spider webs and stuff them into his nose.

If he has nosebleeds frequently, the person concerned should have his blood examined carefully to determine whether something is wrong with the blood. There are, of course, instances in which the blood does not clot, or coagulate, easily because of deficiencies in clotting. Sometimes small blood vessels in the nose may be eroded by an infection or by an injury, and healing will be slow.

A specialist in nose diseases can look directly into the nostrils with suitable lights and a mirror, and learn whether it is a dilated blood vessel, an ulcer, or some other condition which keeps the blood vessels from healing. It is then possible to stop the bleeding by applying caustic to the bleeding point. These caustics include such materials as silver nitrate, or, in some cases, an electrically-heated wire.

Most nosebleeds can be stopped merely by keeping the head elevated and the feet lowered, breathing through the mouth, and applying cold compresses over the bridge of the nose.

Another form of hemorrhage which demands some attention is bleeding into tissues. This occurs particularly under the eye, giving the appearance that is commonly called "black eye." A black eye is a form of bruise. One of the first steps in treating it is the application to the eye of ice compresses which help to prevent discoloration.

Later, hot compresses may be applied to the eye and kept on for a half hour, the procedure being repeated three times a day. This encourages circulation of the blood and hastens disappearance of the swelling and discoloration.

As with nosebleeds, there are many superstitious ways of treating black eyes, which should not be tried by the average person giving first aid. Do not try to press the eye with the handle of a knife, and do not apply any strong medicines.

Danger of injury to the eye itself is far more serious than either the mental or physical discomfort usually associated with black eye. If there is any question as to whether the eye has been injured, a doctor who specializes in eye ailments should be consulted immediately.

Home Bureau Will Elect Officers at Meeting Today

Organization Meeting to Be Held at Baptist Church; All Women Invited

Organization of the Morgan County Home Bureau with a membership of several hundred women will be perfected this afternoon at the first annual meeting, to be held at First Baptist church. The meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. V. Stevenson of Streator, president of the State Home Bureau Federation, and Mrs. Catherine Van Aken Burns of the University of Illinois will be the principal speakers.

The newly formed Home Bureau will elect officers and a board of directors for the year. A constitution and budget will be adopted and other business transacted.

The session Friday is an open meeting to which all women interested in Home Bureau work are invited. While a large number of members already have been secured, the membership is open to women whether they reside in towns or the county.

Selection of a full time home adviser is expected to take place within a short time after the board of directors is elected.

Mrs. David Reynolds of near Woodson has served as temporary chairman while preliminary organization work was being done. The county organization committee includes Mrs. Douglas Hunt, Mrs. Alfred Detmer, Mrs. Leland Werries, Mrs. William Reiser, Mrs. Leroy Smith, Mrs. Roy Coons, and Mrs. Will Herring.

Resume WPA Work On Glasgow Roads

Number of Men Employed on Job; Other News from Community

Glasgow—Work was resumed the first of the week on the WPA project, north of town, which is located between the north Glasgow hill and the Big Sandy bridge, a stretch of about one-half mile.

This project includes the enlarging and widening of two small concrete bridges, straightening the road, making fills and cutting down the slope of the Glasgow hill. The small bridge at the foot of the hill has been completed and now work is being done on the other, which is located between the Mrs. May Killebrew home and the Fairview school.

Quite a few men from different parts of the county are being employed on this project. They were formerly employed on the project west of town, where the small bridge at the bottom of the west Glasgow hill was rebuilt, to conform with the new road across the creek bottoms.

Soft Ball at Glasgow
Glasgow has finally become soft ball conscious to such an extent that there appears to be a bloody battle in the offing between the regular team and one which has been hastily organized from substitutes, misfits and castoffs. This titanic struggle is to be played Sunday afternoon in Clark Peak's pasture, south of town. There will be no admission charged.

The Regulars swamped the Pucker-villians last Sunday to the tune of 28-0.

In Accident
Miss Clea Tipton, who is employed in Alton and who visited here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Tipton Sunday, was returning to Alton that evening with Mr. and Mrs. Madison Smith, former residents here, and who were also visiting in this community, when they were involved in an auto wreck, south of Belltown, fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped serious injuries.

Glasgow Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nicholson are the parents of a baby son, born Monday morning, Sept. 21st, the fifth child and fourth son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Overton, daughter, Mrs. Joe Sanderson and daughter, Suzanne, attended the funeral of Mrs. Grace Smith, held in Roodhouse Monday afternoon.

Frank Barrow has moved into the two south rooms of the Chas. Wilson house here. The remaining rooms on the first floor of the residence are now being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garrison.

Mrs. Lula Cox of Jacksonville and daughter, Mrs. William Moss of Winchester were callers in the Dale Blair home Sunday afternoon.

Lemke Cruising to Win Votes

A new kind of campaign "tour"—by boat down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers—is being tried by Representative William Lemke, Union party candidate for president. Lemke is seen at the rail of the packet, Golden Eagle, at Peoria, Ill., as the campaign cruise started. Stops will be made for speeches at river towns.

Meredosia H. S. Notes

The high school enrollment has reached 73 in number. This is the largest enrollment ever recorded in the history of the high school. Freshmen, 25; sophomores, 23; juniors, 18; seniors, 7.

The class and club organizations have now been completed. The boys who outnumber the girls in most of the classes, seem to be quite popular when it comes to being elected to the various offices of the clubs and classes.

This school recently helped organize a soft ball league of the high schools of Morgan county that did not play football. This is the first step toward organization of county athletics. It is expected that the organization will sponsor basketball after Oct. 16.

The schedule for the high school in this city is as follows:

Tuesday, Sept. 22—Franklin at Meredosia.

Friday, Sept. 25—Chapin at Chapin.

Tuesday, Sept. 29—Murrayville at Meredosia.

Friday, Oct. 2—Waverly at Meredosia.

Tuesday, Oct. 6—Routt at Routt.

Friday, Oct. 9—Franklin at Franklin.

Tuesday, Oct. 13—Chapin at Meredosia.

Friday, Oct. 16—Murrayville at Murrayville.

A large trophy is to be given to the winner of the league.

The Commercial club was organized under the guidance of the commerce teacher, Margaret Brady Henderson.

The following were elected to office for the first semester:

President—Farrell Nortrup.

Vice president—Chas. Freeland.

Secretary—Louise Kormeyer.

Treasurer—Ruth Kirby.

Reporter—Leon Unland.

Members of freshmen class organization:

President—Herbert Wade.

Vice president—Chas. Freeland.

Secretary—Johnny Easley.

Treasurer—Francis Reining.

Reporter—Delbert Shinnbarger.

Program committee—Ruth Kirby, Junior Hobson.

Class advisor—Mrs. Henderson.

Senior class officers are as follows:

President—Leona Hinner.

Vice president—Louise Hale.

Secretary—Marian Peters.

Treasurer—Byron Wilker.

Reporter—Corrine Meier.

The glee club held its first meeting Friday, Sept. 11, for organization. The following officers were elected:

President—John Wade.

Vice president—John Freeman.

Secretary—Leona Hinner.

Treasurer—Ruth Kirby.

Reporter—Lee Tiescher.

The Sophomore class organization resulted as follows:

President—John Freeman.

Vice president—Roy Martin.

Secretary—Edward Jones.

Treasurer—Richard Duvendack.

Reporter—Wilbur Kunzeman.

Committee men—Norma Schmitt, and Allen Chrisman.

Class adviser—J. O. Briggs.

The Junior class held a meeting recently and elected the following officers:

President—Marvin Weber.

Vice president—Martin Burrus.

Secretary—Lee Tuscher.

Treasurer—Carolyn Yost.

Reporter—Louise Kormeyer.

Class adviser—Miss Martin.

Sentence Youth to 5 Months at Farm

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Taking Equipment from Automobile

Dale McCullough, of Fairfield, was sentenced to five months at the Vandalia State farm Wednesday by Judge William E. Thomson on McCullough's plea of guilty to a charge of petit larceny.

McCullough's arrest and subsequent confession grew out of the theft of an auto tire pump, five gallons of gasoline, a distributor head and rotary arm, and a floor mat, from a Ford car which had been left in the garage at the home of Horace J. Garfield, 1038 Elm street here.

State's Attorney Wilford Absher presented a signed confession which was filed during the county court hearing, in which McCullough admitted taking an automobile from here and driving it to near his home in Fairfield, where he abandoned the stolen car. He returned to this city in his own machine. The confession also admitted the theft at the Garfield home.

McCullough made a motion for probation, but the judge over-ruled the plea. McCullough, who said he was 22 years old, was returned to the county jail where he is waiting transportation to the Vandalia farm.

Wesley Chapel Club Re-elects Officers

Program Presented at Meeting Recently; Other News from Community

Point—The Worth While S. S. class of Wesley Chapel met for their regular meeting and election of officers on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edith Richardson, with good attendance of members.

After a short business session the following program was given:
Devotions—Mrs. Jeanette Vasey.
Playlet, "Courtship Under Difficulty"—Misses Marcella, Bernice and Ardine Mulch.

Two readings were given by Miss Marcella Mulch.
Election of officers resulted in retaining the same officers who served last year.

President—Mrs. Annie Coultas.
Secretary—Mrs. Clyde

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting or burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Crimsons Invade Beardstown As Tigers Go To Converse For Night Grid Games Tonight

Jacksonville high's Crimsons and Illinois School for the Deaf's Tigers, local high school football teams, will venture out of their home territories tonight when the Crimsons go to Beardstown to assist in the dedication of a new lighting plant, and the Tigers move to Springfield for a game with Converse high school, which this year joined the four year class of the schools in the capital city.

Cochman Walker will put a revised line-up from the one which faced Pittsfield last Friday night under lights up against the powerful Beardstown team, and Coach S. Robey Burns will send one of the lightest teams he has ever coached against the Converse Lads.

The game at Beardstown is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p. m. after a few opening ceremonies. The lighting plant at Beardstown has been installed this week and the Beardstown lads had one chance to practice under the arcs. The advantage of a single night's practice will be slight, however, for the Crimsons have had one game under lights already.

Injuries are causing some concern in the J. H. S. camp where Coach Walker has been drilling his team on team-play all week in an effort to remove some of the raggedness which cropped up in the scoresline tie at Pittsfield. Bourn, a guard, Ball, tackle, and Johnston, an end, all have bruised muscles which may prevent them from getting in the line-up. Walker held out hopes only for Ball.

Under the new arrangement, it is probable that Abel and Bill Schildman, ends, Engelman and Ball, tackles, Chinowith and Greenleaf, guards, Strowman, center, Ranson, Scott, Summers and Hickie will be the starting Crimston line-up.

Reserves slated to make the trip include the injured Johnston and Marshall, ends, Spink, Newberry and Wernle, tackles, Bourn, Brown and Bagale, guards, Killam, Underwood and Horace Vasconcellos, backs.

Burns Names Starters. Coach S. Robey Burns said yesterday he probably would start Rajski, 151, and Burris, 145, ends, Dhondt, 160, and Deitsch, 175, tackles, Irvin, 135, and Neimeyer, 155, guards, Clements, 145, center, Madison, 135, quarterback, Otten, 146, and Carlson, 145, halfbacks, and Schrader, 152, fullback.

Although not particularly worried about the game tonight, Coach Burns is worried about his schedule. The Tiger coach would like to line up a few more games for his boys, and particularly would like to get some night-games. Burns wants to get his team ready for next year, when it is highly probable that the new field at the Morgan County Fair Grounds will be available.

Practically all of the members of this year's varsity at I. S. D. played football last year, which means that Burns will have a bunch of veterans and semi-veterans to put into action tonight. Some of the boys played on the second string last year, but they got some valuable experience then.

The I. S. D. schedule for the year is as follows:
Sept. 26—At Converse, Springfield (night).
Oct. 3—At Indiana, S. D.
Oct. 9—St. Teresa, Decatur, here.
Oct. 17—At Quincy high.
Oct. 24—Lincoln here.
Oct. 31—Open.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—I. S. D. vs. J. H. S.
Nov. 21—Missouri S. D.

Athletics Whip Yankees 4 to 3

New York, Sept. 24.—(P)—The Yankees wasted time hitting by Lou Gehrig and a fine pitching performance by Monte Pearson today and dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics.

Gehrig belted his 49th homer and a double to drive in all the New York runs. Pearson allowed the A's two hits for seven innings, and then, straining his back in walking the first Philadelphia batter in the eighth, had to leave the game.

The A's landed on his relief, Johnny Murphy, for three hits and three runs before the inning was over to sew up the game.

Score:
Philadelphia 000 100 030—4 5 1
New York 010 000 020—3 8 1

Valley Leaguers To Open Play Today

Three Tilts to Inaugurate Campaign; Roodhouse Is Defender

Three games, all of them scheduled for this afternoon or tonight, will inaugurate play in the Illinois Valley football conference. Greenfield will go to Pleasant Hill and White Hall will play at Winchester this afternoon and Carrollton will invade Pittsfield tonight. Jerseyville will open its season against a non-conference foe tonight, and Virginia will go to Industry to begin its Spoon River conference schedule. Beardstown, another Spoon River conference team, will oppose Jacksonville tonight under lights.

Roodhouse, the defending champions, will not get underway for the season until Saturday afternoon when they will go to Springfield for a game with Peishans high. The Railroaders begin their conference activities against Pleasant Hill a week from tomorrow.

Carrollton, White Hall and Roodhouse all loom large in the doping for this year's championship, but all of them have the title far from clinched. Pittsfield, with a light and fast team, may give the Hawks a lot of trouble tonight, and White Hall can't forget what happened last year when Winchester stopped them with a 13-0 score. The Wildcats are very bit as effective with their two big weapons, the lateral and forward passes, this year, and White Hall can expect plenty of trouble from this method of attack.

Greenfield and Pleasant Hill are as yet untied, but Pleasant Hill has a long list of veterans available this year. The new Pleasant Hill coach has changed the boys around somewhat from the way they lined up last year.

The Pleasant Hill-Greenfield game also will serve as an introduction for two new conference coaches. Harvey Dickinson, former star athlete at Culver-Stockton, has taken over the job at Pleasant Hill and Dale Daugherty, former Bradley Tech star, is going into his first season as head of the Greenfield forces.

Phillies Split With Dodgers

Brooklyn, Sept. 24.—(P)—The Dodgers closed out their home season today by splitting a doubleheader with the Phillies.

The Phils took the opener when Jose Gomez singled in the 13th inning with the bases filled, driving in two runs for a 4 to 2 decision. The second game had to be called because of darkness at the end of the Phils seventh, with the Brooklyn winning 4 to 2.

Hugh Mulcahy went the full 13 innings for the Phils in the opener, giving up only eight hits. Harry Eisenstat lasted the nightcap for the Dodgers, gaining his first victory for Brooklyn.

Illini Ready For Battle With DePaul

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 24.—It is no secret in the Illinois football camp that the Illini are braced for the hardest kind of struggle against DePaul's Blue Demons in the opening game of the season in the Illinois stadium Saturday.

The crowd of 25,000, largely composed of high school students who will be guests of the Illini, will see plenty of football if they desire as the Purple and Illinois B teams will play a preliminary game starting at noon.

Bob Zupke's starting lineup will include at least five sophomores, in contrast to the veteran complexion of DePaul's eleven composed entirely of seniors and sophomores. On top of that the Blue Demon line will average about 200 pounds, which will be 15 pounds or more heavier than the Illini. The DePaul backfield will average 176, which also exceeds the Illini avoidance by at least six pounds.

DePaul's record last year was one to inspire respect by the strongest foes. Coach Jim Kelly's warriors held Northwestern scoreless until the final quarter when the Wildcats rallied to put over two touchdowns. In all, DePaul won five games, lost two and tied one.

The DePaul cohorts will arrive Saturday forenoon by special train, hopeful that they will witness the upsetting of their Big Ten rivals. President M. J. McConnell will head a party of 35 members of the faculty who will occupy boxes on the west side. The Illinois band will make its first appearance of the season.

The Illinois starting lineup is still unsettled at left guard where Zupke may choose a starter from a group composed of Fay, Bruder, Stotz and Morris, squadmen with experience, and Willard Cramer and Bob Porter, sophomores.

Bill Johnson and Bob Castello, sophomore ends, will probably start but Francis Cantwell and Bill Bennis and Bill Kusz, experienced men and Bob Reeves and Joe Klemp, other sophomores, are likely to figure.

Every Golfer To Get Prize in Meet

Jerome Barber Has 2 Stroke Lead in Nichols Park Open Tourney

Every golfer who qualified for the final 36 holes of the Nichols Park Open golf tournament will get a prize the park golf committee decided at a meeting last night at which it disqualified two golfers, accepted withdrawals from others, arranged the draw for the final 36 holes of the tournament, and settled on the division of the prizes.

The committee approved scores of 14 golfers and qualified them for the final 36 holes. Jerome Barber, defending champion, was recognized as having a two stroke lead over Jerome Buckley, three strokes over Joe Doyle, park match play champion, and Fred Craft, former match play champion at the park.

The committee disqualified Willie Barber, who tore up his card during his second 18 hole qualifying round, and Carl Gardner, who will be unable to play in the final match Sunday. Several other players also notified the committee through starter Bob Deaton that they would be unable to play this Sunday, bringing the final field down to 14 probable starters.

Jerome Barber, who also won the 142 for his first 36 holes, while Buckley was on his heels with a score of 144. Joe Doyle, who also won the Little 19 collegiate crown last year, was in third place with 145, and Craft totaled 148 for his first 36 holes.

A silver trophy will go to the winner of the championship, five golf balls will be awarded to the second place winner and three to the third place winner, and merchandise prizes, donated by Jacksonville merchants, will be given to the remaining 11 players who qualified for the final 36 holes.

Additional merchandise prizes will be awarded to the player who turns in the most 2's, to the player who scores the most threes, and to the player who has the most fours, another prize will be given to the player who has the best score on the last 36 holes, and another to the player who turns in the best score for 18 holes, another to the player who makes the most birdies, and the three best caddies will be rewarded for their work.

Players will tee off Sunday morning in two four-ones, and two three-ones, as listed below, according to the scores they made during the first 36 holes:

Pirates Shutout Chicago Cubs 4-0

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(P)—Pittsburgh shoved Chicago deeper into third place today by beating the Cubs 4 to 0 in the final game of the National League season at Wright Field.

Cy Blanton held the Chicagoans to three hits as the Bucs made nine off Larry French in eight innings and all of Tex Carleton, who worked the last frame. A Ladies' Day crowd of 13,000 saw the game. Vaughan, Todd and Young each had two hits to pace the Pirate attack.

Forrest Jensen, Buc left fielder, appeared at bat five times and boosted the total number of his trips to the plate for the season to 683, setting a new major league record. The old mark was 681, set by Lloyd Waner of Pittsburgh in 1931 and equaled by Joe Moore of the New York Giants.

Hal Schumacher Pitches Fine Baseball To Give New Yorkers Their 91st Win Of '36 Season

Baseball To Give New Yorkers Their 91st Win Of '36 Season

Boston, Sept. 24.—(P)—The New York Giants clinched their "Horatio Alger" success story today by clinching the National League pennant.

Topping off one of the most astonishing drives in diamond history, they nosed out the Boston Bees 2 to 1 in a ten-inning pitching thriller in the first game of a doubleheader to sew up the flag.

Their victory made the first "subway series" since 1923 a certainty, with the New York Yankees as the American league representatives. The classic gets under way next Wednesday in the Giants' Polo grounds.

A restrained group of athletes got together in the clubhouse between the first and second games today to exchange congratulations, but there was little whooping it up, except on the part of shortstop sparkplug, Dick Bartell.

Today's win was the Giants' 91st of the season, leaving them with three games to play after the twin bill with the Bees. The best the second place St. Louis Cardinals can accomplish between now and the end of their schedule would still fall short of catching up.

"Prince Hal" Schumacher, the question mark of the Giants' pitching staff, accomplished today's win almost single handed, but a costly error by Bill Tranksi was a big help. Urbananski juggled Travis Jackson's grounder in the tenth and then threw wide first, enabling the veteran third sacker to reach second. Schumacher brought him all the way home immediately with a single.

In the second game, Terry replaced most of his regulars with second string men and the Bees won 4 to 0 behind Bill Weir's six-hit pitching.

The first-game victory was the Giants' 51st against 18 losses in the spectacular drive that carried them from second division to the championship between July 15 and today.

Collapsing after fighting for the lead early in the season, Bill Terry's troupe sank out of first division and seemed through for the season.

"ALL-BRAN KEEPS ME IN SHAPE EVERY DAY"

"When I had eaten a heavy breakfast, I would feel lousy. After a couple of days of this, I would have to take a laxative."

"One morning I had a dish of ALL-BRAN. Believe me, it beats any laxative, as it keeps me in shape every day."—Wm. C. Billings, 1330 19th St., Denver, Colorado.

Why put up with half-sick days, when a delicious cereal will make you feel so good? Because ALL-BRAN has "bulk" which absorbs moisture within the body. Then gently sponges out your system, wipes away the listlessness, the "blues," the headaches.

Scientific tests prove this natural food is both safe and effective—worlds better than taking patent medicines. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Take it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Board of Supervisors held a special called meeting at the court house in Jerseyville Wednesday for the purpose of filling the vacancy created by the death last week of State's Attorney R. C. Chappell.

Attorney Fred A. DuHadway, present candidate for the office on the Democratic ticket, was appointed to fill the vacancy by the unanimous vote of the board.

DuHadway graduated from the old Jerseyville high school in 1907. In 1915, he graduated from the College of Law of the University of Illinois. Following his admission to the bar of Illinois that same year, DuHadway formed a partnership with Walter J. Chapman, then state's attorney of Jersey county and was named assistant. He was appointed city attorney of Jerseyville under the administration of the late Alex C. Robb. In 1917 he moved to Hardin, Ill., and was appointed state's attorney of Calhoun county by circuit and county judges and the board of county commissioners to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. T. J. Selby.

In 1922, he returned to Jerseyville to resume his practice with the firm of Chapman and DuHadway. In 1925 the firm opened an office in Alton and Atty. Chapman moved to that city, leaving DuHadway in charge of the Jerseyville office. The firm dissolved in 1933 with Attorney DuHadway continuing his practice here. Last spring DuHadway was nominated by the Democratic party as its candidate for state's attorney.

The regular semi-annual term of the Jersey County Circuit Court is scheduled for next Monday, September 28th. Judge Walter Wright of Jacksonville will come to Jerseyville for the convening of the term and calling of the docket.

The docket from present indications will not be a heavy one. Seven new divorce cases have been filed for the term and two common law ones have been added since the last session. One criminal case continued from the last term is set for hearing the opening day.

Last Words About Richman Flight

"We've worked together, slept together, come back together. We're pals," Harry Richman (right) announces, on their return to New York at the end of their peril fraught roundtrip flight over the Atlantic. The protestations of friendship were called forth by interest in the flyers' alleged row over dumping gasoline at sea.

Members of the grand jury will not report for duty the opening date, but the members of the petit jury will be present for service.

Knights of Pythias End State Sessions

Local Delegates Home from Annual Meeting; Defeat Plan for Assessment

Several members of local Knights of Pythias lodges have returned from Springfield where they attended the annual state convention of the order Tuesday and Wednesday. John Seibert was delegate from Jacksonville lodge 152 and Frank Bracewell represented Favorite lodge 376. Others from here who attended some of the sessions were Jewell E. Scott and James Peak.

The state convention closed Wednesday with installation of officers and a business session when delegates voted down a proposed membership assessment of $1 each for the coming year.

It was voted to make a mortgage to an endowment fund of $12,000 on the home for the aged at Decatur, which is unoccupied at the present. Such action is expected to balance the budget for the next year.

Action on the proposed removal of the lodge office from Springfield to Decatur was deferred. Springfield was again chosen as the meeting place for the 1937 convention and headquarters will be the Leland hotel.

Among appropriations made yesterday were one thousand dollars for hiring an organizer to promote Pythian membership; $23,000 for the operation of the homes, and $8,000 for the operation of the grand lodge. Salaries of the officers will also come from the latter appropriation.

JUST ANOTHER DAY IN LIFE OF DOCTOR

Garrison Family of Doctors Preside at Numerous Births in Family

White Hall—Dr. W. H. Garrison of this city had an exciting race with the stork Tuesday night and won out with a goodly margin. Dr. Garrison had gone to Carlinville to attend the regular monthly Medical Meeting of Macoupin county, and wanted especially to hear the lecture to be given by Dr. J. Curtis Letter of St. Louis, on "Tumors of the Chest."

Going to Carlinville he drove his car to Carrollton and left it there and accompanied some doctors from Carrollton to Carlinville. When he reached Carlinville a message was waiting for him to return home and go to Montezuma where the stork was hovering over a home there.

He had a taxi bring him to Carrollton and then got his own car and rushed to White Hall where he found a child in his office with a cut in her head that he had to stop and sew up, then gathered up his cases and started again for Montezuma.

He traveled from Carlinville to White Hall in about forty minutes and from White Hall to the ferry over the Illinois river at Montezuma in another forty minutes. The road from White Hall to Montezuma is all gravel or dirt.

A ten pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tillery at the home of Mrs. Tillery's mother, Mrs. Nettie Smith in Montezuma at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Tillery now reside southeast of Carrollton where they recently moved from the Wrights vicinity. The child was born in the same house his grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Daniels walk Smith was born, and his mother was born in a house nearby thirty-one years ago. Dr. Garrison was present at the birth of the child's mother also, and his father, Dr. G. B. Garrison was present when the grandmother was born.

O. D. Poffenburger of Carrollton was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Alton Ry. Objects to Jersey Co. Tax Rate

Protest Based on Failure to Provide for Increase in Bond Rate

Jerseyville—Objections to the 1935 taxes assessed against the property in Jersey county owned by the Alton Railroad company have been filed by the railroad through its attorney, Walter J. Chapman. Hearing on the objections will be held in the Jersey County Court early in October.

The company objects to the county bond issue. The rate is 16c plus the bond tax of 10c, making the county rate 26c which is 1c in excess of the county limitation rate. The objectors contend that while the proposition to issue the proposed bonds was carried at the election there was no question submitted to the voters of the county as to whether they would or would not authorize an additional tax in excess of the 25c limit to be levied on account of such county bonds. The amount objected to on this issue is $912.81.

The second objection pertains to the City Tax in which the amount objected to is $74.80. Three items in the City Tax are objected to on the grounds that they are indefinite, namely police salary and expenses, $4,000; sanitary purposes, $4,500, and cemetery purposes, $1,500.

The company also filed objections against the School Tax in six districts on the ground that these districts had sufficient funds on hand to meet the expenses and for this reason there should be no assessment. The districts and amounts objected to are: No. 1, $358.95; No. 3, $263.43; No. 4, $150.72; No. 38, $129.71; No. 61, $5.33, and No. 69, $127.26.

150 PERSONS ROUTED OUT BY HOTEL FIRE

Missoula, Mont.—(P)—A spectacular fire today routed more than 150 persons, including the University of Minnesota football squad, from a hotel in the business district.

The hotel, (Florence) a four-story structure and the city's largest, and two smaller adjoining buildings had been virtually destroyed at 7 a. m., three hours after the blaze first was discovered in a drug store.

Fire Chief James Cranney said a check-up showed all guests and employees in the hotel had escaped unharm.

We Need All Kinds of Feed

WE NEED ALL KINDS OF FEED for the 2,000 head of hogs and the 1,000 head of cattle we have on full feed on our farms in Scott county. WE NEED livestock, lumber, limestone and fence posts. You will be amazed at the price we can offer you on soy beans—alfalfa, clover and soy bean hay in trade for a new or used car.

You Can Save Money

BY TRADING WITH US YOU SAVE the salesman's commission of six per cent and you save the six per cent finance charge. We take your note at the regular rate and you pay interest only on the money you actually use and not six per cent on all the money which you use only half the time under the usual finance plan.

WE HAVE $40,000.00 WORTH of new and used cars on hand. One hundred used cars and fifty new cars to select from. We buy parts and accessories in car load lots and our present stock is valued at $20,000.00.

Major Candidates For Press Freedom; Views Made Public

Roosevelt Asks for "Clear Thinking"; Landon Hits Waste, Extravagance

New York—(AP)—An appeal by President Roosevelt for "clear thinking" in determining the future of the country and an attack by Gov. Alf M. Landon on what he termed "waste and extravagance" of the New Deal were written into the record of the Herald-Tribune Forum on Current Problems today.

The president, speaking from his Hyde Park, N. Y., home last night, said the forum might start political partisans thinking and "convey the idea that prejudice is a rather weak substitute for logic in determining the questions that are of such vital consequence to our country as a whole and to each individual citizen thereof."

Landon in his statement—read by Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr., eastern Republican campaign manager—lashed out at the "narrow nationalism in its (the administration's) planned economy."

Both candidates upheld freedom of the press.

"Freedom of speech and a free press is essential to the continuation of true liberalism," Landon's statement said.

Mr. Roosevelt appealed for direct handling of news—"the commodity that is marketed to the whole people"—and said he did not believe "a journal's news columns ought to be tampered with, either by coloring news or leaving out news."

"In the welter of passion which apparently is still inseparable from our political campaigns," Mr. Roosevelt said, "you and I hear about the liberty of the press—regimentation of the press against the government and regimentation of the press by the government."

"It is doubtful if the United States ever had an administration since the days when Washington was accused of despotism and aspirations to kingship that had the slightest desire to muzzle anybody. The unchecked virulence of assaults on almost every administration since the beginning of our history in itself is best proof of that statement."

Former President Hoover, in another Forum address, advocated local rather than federal administration of relief and charges that federal administration had led to greed, labor shortages in industry, a "numb dependency" of relief recipients and resentment, instead of sympathy, toward the unemployed.

During his administration, he said, relief was handled locally and "no one starved," and there were no charges of politics, waste or corruption.

"Today, instead of sympathy for the unemployed and the destitute, there is growing resentment," he asserted.

France Boosts Its Bank Discount Rate

Made Necessary to Halt Increasing Drain on Gold

Paris—(AP)—The Bank of France raised its discount rate from 3 to 5 per cent today. The drastic increase was ordered in an effort to halt the increasing drain on French gold reserves.

Only yesterday, French political circles reported the government, worried by the gold drain which between Aug. 7 and Sept. 11 took 1,456,000,000 francs (about $95,804,000) out of France, had conferred with British financial advisers concerning the possibility of "reimbursement" of the franc.

The government was reported seeking a British promise that the pound would not be further devalued in this event.

Last night the Berengaria sailed from Cherbourg with 35 cases of gold, bound for New York banks. The cabinet is expected to devote most of tomorrow's meeting to discussion of the situation.

Today's increase in the discount rate was accompanied by a rise of from 4 to 6 per cent in the rate of advances on securities, and from 3 to 5 per cent on 30 day advances.

The bank's statement disclosed a marked increase in the loss of gold, amid the rumors that devaluation—long the goal of a prominent bloc of statesmen—might be imminent.

The statement showed a further loss of 840,000,000 francs ($5,272,000) in the last week reported.

Brooks Criticizes State Pension Plan

Lewistown, Ill.—(AP)—Criticizing social security legislation enacted during the Horner administration, Wayland Brooks, Republican gubernatorial candidate, said in a speech prepared for delivery here today that passage of a "bonafide old age pension" is one of the "first obligations of the next general assembly."

"An old age pension," he said, "should be voted to our elderly citizens as a moral obligation and not as a beggarly dole or cold charity."

Brooks termed the old age assistance law "a pauper act" and said it was entangled with "red tape." Persons receiving old age pension checks, he said, "found them less satisfactory than ordinary relief payments." Many, he said, "have died waiting for the postmaster to bring them the old age pension."

"The legislature intended to vote an old age pension," he declared, "it did not intend, nor will our people tolerate the humiliation and pauperizing of these unfortunate people."

Landon Greets 'Tall Corn' Farmers

Gov. Alf Landon's drive toward the presidency reached a new dramatic peak in this scene during his speech at Des Moines, Ia., when 25,000 "corn country" residents gave him a boisterous ovation. Standing in the glare of floodlights before the crowd at the fairgrounds, Landon is shown returning the greeting. He pledged an agricultural program preserving the traditionally American "family-type" farm.

Erroneous Idea Has Grown Up

Monthly Payments Not Necessarily Doubled; Federal Government Assumes Half of Total Load.

PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Old age assistance Superintendent James H. Andrews today sought to clear up an "erroneous impression" among Illinois recipients and county welfare commissions that the amount of monthly pensions would be doubled for all cases because of federal financial participation in the Illinois program.

He sent a bulletin to the county officials pointing out that the state sum would not be flatly doubled because federal funds were made available. Instead, Andrews said, the U. S. aid would result in the federal government assuming the financial load of the state assistance program. Some pensions will be increased, he said, but to secure a larger monthly payment a recipient must submit evidence on his claim for a greater need of aid and the application must be reconsidered.

He explained that while waiting for federal approval of the Illinois act the state had not sought "to work a hardship on eligible persons by paying them only half of what was considered their fair assistance." For example, Andrews said, if a person's assistance was judged to be $20, the state did not necessarily pay only $10, but paid the full $15 maximum permitted before federal aid was secured. Now, he said, the state could not double that to $30 but instead on reconsideration might raise the amount to $20. There were some recommendations made he said, in the form of $15 until federal funds available and then $20. These have automatically been increased, he said.

There will be some cases where $15 was paid before the federal funds were available will not be boosted to $30, the superintendent said. He said the average amount of assistance already has passed the former state maximum of $15 and was "much higher than most states are paying." To date, 50,250 applications have been approved, he reported.

Wabash college's publicity agent has discovered the fact that the football game between Illinois and Wabash here Saturday will bring together teams from two of the oldest institutions of higher education in the middle west.

Illinois College has two years on Wabash, according to his figures. He also claims that the two colleges were founded by the same men, John Melott Ellis.

Coach Ray Nusspickel, of the Blue-boys, was somewhat put out yesterday when he hunted around for a collegiate football rule-book. It used to be that it was an easy matter to get rule books, but since the high schools have joined the National Federation, there isn't much demand for a Football guide.

The high school association furnishes its coaches and officiating members with rule books and play situations books. The colleges have no organization to furnish them with rule books, and when it comes to buying them on the open market, the college coaches find it is a rather difficult problem.

Jacksonville high can't start their game at Beardstown until 8:30 tonight because one of the movie theaters over there is having its weekly give-away night. That means the Crimson's will be playing football long after dew fall.

The Crimson's aren't superstitious. They had their pictures shot yesterday for the high school annual.

And when we asked Coach S. Robey Burns for the names of some of his substitutes at I. S. D. the Tiger mentor shook his head and waved his hands.

Burns believes that he has one of the smartest squads he has had in a long time even if it is lighter.

The Rideout twins of Tuscola, Wayne and Blaine, who transferred from Illinois to Alabama last year, have again sought new fields for their track prowess. They are attending North Texas State Teachers college at Denton.

High school students of the state will be guests at the DePaul football game in the Illinois stadium Saturday. Applications for tickets are being made by superintendents and principals to C. E. Bowen, ticket manager.

Ken Nelson, Illinois' outstanding end, believed by many to be in line for national recognition this season, may forfeit this opportunity because he has been shifted to quarterback. Nelson has blocked six punts in two seasons at end in important games.

Weenie Wilson assistant Illinois football coach, will fly to Los Angeles this week to observe Southern California in their opening game against Oregon State. He will be back Sunday to report to Bob Zuppke on the Trojan strength.

Accuses Horner of Coercing Employees

Civil Service Head Receiving Flood of Protests

Carbondale, Ill.—(AP)—Charles W. Hadley, Republican candidate for attorney general, declared in a campaign speech prepared for delivery here today that "it has been proved" that Governor Horner "is blackjacking men and women who have no recourse but a civil service law which makes a protest tantamount to a loss of job."

"William J. Thorp, secretary of the Civil Service Protective Association, has received a flood of complaints from civil service employees, who say they are being ordered to contribute $5 each to a Horner campaign publication (Truth) which is being edited by state employees, who instead of being on their jobs are spending the tax-payers' money to promote Horner's candidacy," Hadley said.

The candidate also was scheduled to speak at Elizabethtown, Golconda, Metropolis, Vienna and Anna.

"Mr. Thorp declares that pressure upon state employees to contribute to the Horner primary campaign was the worst he has ever known," said Hadley, "at that time it was necessary, he says, to obtain an injunction restraining state executive officers from intimidating and forcing civil service employees to make campaign contributions. In general disclaimers, Horner seeks to dodge these nasty facts."

Chinese Protests Unheeded

Objected to Japan Setting Up Martial Law in Shanghai Following Killing of One Marine, Wounding Two.

CITY IS WARNED

Shanghai—Japanese officials, backed by armed marines patrolling a large area under martial law, rejected curtly today Chinese protests against invasion of the Chinese settlement and warned the entire city to "keep its head cool."

Strong forces of blue-coated Japanese in tanks and armored cars and on motorcycles drew faint lines around a large area of the international settlement in "self-defense" measures resulting from the killing of one marine and the wounding of two others.

The spot where the marine died was heavily guarded by squads with fixed bayonets. Military authorities continued their investigation of the slaying but released one Chinese, held as a suspect.

"We are well in control of the situation," asserted Rear Admiral Eljiro Kondo, commander of special Japanese forces in Shanghai. "We are taking every necessary measure to protect Japanese lives and property."

The protest against Japanese entry into the Chinese-controlled area north of the international settlement was sent to Japanese military authorities. They, however, immediately rejected it without deigning to answer.

The official investigation of the shooting, which was fixed at 8 p. m. Wednesday, centered around the story told by a Japanese eye-witness. Through his testimony, the innocence of the Chinese suspect was established. Investigators said he was merely a passerby who was picked up in the excitement.

The Japanese witness was reported to have declared the attack on the three marines was staged by on Chinese gunman.

The witness said he was walking behind the marines and the Chinese, who was following the Japanese. Suddenly the Chinese whipped out a pistol, fired repeatedly at the marines and then dashed down a dark alley, the witness asserted.

Excitement over the latest attack on Japanese nationals continued high within the Japanese community. The two wounded marines were reported improving.

Admiral Kondo, in a proclamation urging his countrymen to remain calm, asserted the action of the Japanese forces "is based upon the right of self-defense."

"Its object is the protection of lives and property of Japanese residents here," the naval commander declared. "We will not be lenient to those regarding Japanese nationals as enemies and who thereby threaten the peace and order of Shanghai."

Reserve members of the international settlement volunteer defense force, made up of resident foreigners including many Americans and Filipinos, was ordered to stand by for possible emergency duty. The force includes 1,500 men.

New York, Sept. 24.—(P)—Financial problems of the French cast a shadow over today's stock market and prices moved rather indecisively throughout the session.

Fears of franc devaluation, coincident with heavy losses of gold by France, brought light selling flurries during the early hours.

Evidences of continued domestic industrial progress were numerous, however, and leading issues stiffened in late dealings under leadership of some of the Motors, Rails and Specialties. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks finished unchanged at 68.4. Transfers totaled 1,193,840 shares against 1,483,670 yesterday. Of 850 issues changing hands, 309 advanced, 347 declined and 294 were unchanged.

Emphasizing the French fiscal crisis were the official figures disclosing a further drop in gold holdings for the week ended Sept. 19, of about $55,000,000 to the lowest level in five years. The French bank at the same time boosted its discount rate from 3 to 5 per cent in an effort to stem outflow of the metal.

Several Rail stocks were resistant throughout as freight loadings for last week, to be officially published tomorrow, were expected to make the best showing for the year to date. Earnings of the principal roads also attracted attention.

Revival of the automotive department was aided by expectations Motor manufacturers will soon have their factories humming in production of new 1937 models.

Chicago Wheat
Prices Higher

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(P)—New high prices unequalled for a good many years by wheat went along today with increasing of trade attention to prospective difficulties relative to supplies.

Last minute jumps that took the Chicago wheat market up 2 1/2 cents a bushels maximum compared with 24 hours previous were witnessed, and talk was current that larger export business in Canadian wheat is being put through than day-to-day estimates suggest. Winnipeg, however, after the close said that about 1,250,000 bushels were taken today or export.

Pronounced falling-off in Canada's rural marketings of wheat attracted sharp notice, country deliveries yesterday amounting to but 1,656,000 bushels against 3,903,000 bushels a year ago. It was asserted Canadian farmers have already disposed of virtually 100,000,000 bushels out of an estimated total of 165,000,000 available for sale throughout the crop year.

Wheat closed strong, 11-2 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish. Sept. 118 1/2, Dec. 117-117 1/2, May 116, corn 1-3 1/4 advanced, Sept. 113-113 1/2, Dec. 95 1/2-95 1/2, oats 1-1 1/2 up, Dec. 43 1/2, and rye 90 1/2-11 1/2 bulge, Dec. 84. In provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 17 cents higher.

Contributing to the upward impetus of wheat values were reports that a settlement was near at hand in the strike which has crippled flour milling business of late at Minneapolis.

State Corn Husking Contest at DeKalb

DeKalb county will be the scene of the Illinois State Corn Husking contest this year. Illinois huskers will meet on Wednesday, November 4, six days before the National Corn Husking contest, which will be held in Licking county, Ohio, this year. The William Reeves farm in DeKalb county will be the place of the Illinois contest. The farm is located 13 miles north of Maple Park on the county line road, about 7 miles northeast of DeKalb.

This year marks the first time a state contest has been held as far north as DeKalb county. It was originally planned for Iroquois county, but a light crop there necessitated a change.

Despite the drought, huskers in the state event will not be wanting for corn. Jake Bess, operator of the contest farm, estimates that the contest field will produce from 80 to 100 bushels an acre. The crop is a hybrid developed by C. L. Gunn, president of

Farm and Rural Interest

Final Date of Compliance for Soil Conservation in This County is Sept. 30; Chairman Gives Facts; Delegates Named For Rural Youth Meeting

The final date for compliance under the 1936 soil conservation program is September 30, Wallace Hembrough, Morgan county chairman, announced yesterday. Thirty-six reporters are now engaged in measuring farms under the soil conservation program, he said. Only farms are being measured whose owners or operators have signed a request for measuring and wish one of these cards and take or mail them to the committee.

Land may be classified as conserving under the following conditions: Land seeded to soybeans which failed to grow due to unsatisfactory weather conditions, conserving if seeded to clover, alfalfa or timothy by Sept. 30; soybeans or cowpeas plowed under by Sept. 30; soybeans or cowpeas out for hay and seeded to timothy, clover or conserving crop by Sept. 30.

Green manure crops such as wheat, clover, barley, rye and grain mixtures whether pastured or not, provided they were incorporated into the soil as green manure by plowing or discing before July 1, 1936, and followed by a soil conserving crop seeded by Sept. 30.

Recommended seedings of soil conserving crops are: Alfalfa, 12-15 lbs. per acre; red clover, 10-15 lbs. per acre; timothy, 10-12 lbs. per acre; red top, 7-10 lbs. per acre; mixture of timothy and red top, 12-15 lbs. per acre.

These may be seeded without a nurse crop or with a nurse crop, provided there is evidence that such nurse crop was needed at a rate not in excess of one-half the normal rate of seeding such crop alone for grain.

Soil-building payments are made for carrying out soil-building practices on crop land or non-crop pasture land in 1936, provided the payment with respect to any farm shall not exceed the soil-building allowance for such farm. Anyone who seeded clover or alfalfa in the spring which died out due to the drought and hot weather, should have their evidence establishing the proof of seeding ready for the crop reporter when he comes to measure the farm. These are known as Class II payments.

Class I payments are made for actual diversion from soil depleting to soil conserving crops. The maximum payment for any one farm is 15 per cent of the base assigned to that farm.

Rural Youth Organization Will Meet Tuesday Night

The Morgan County Rural Youth organization will meet Tuesday night at the farm bureau hall, William Hadden, temporary president, is desirous that there be a large attendance of young people. Reports of the recent state conference at Urbana will be given by the delegates. Officers for the year will be chosen and plans for the October meeting will be made.

State Corn Husking Contest at DeKalb

DeKalb county will be the scene of the Illinois State Corn Husking contest this year. Illinois huskers will meet on Wednesday, November 4, six days before the National Corn Husking contest, which will be held in Licking county, Ohio, this year. The William Reeves farm in DeKalb county will be the place of the Illinois contest. The farm is located 13 miles north of Maple Park on the county line road, about 7 miles northeast of DeKalb.

This year marks the first time a state contest has been held as far north as DeKalb county. It was originally planned for Iroquois county, but a light crop there necessitated a change.

Despite the drought, huskers in the state event will not be wanting for corn. Jake Bess, operator of the contest farm, estimates that the contest field will produce from 80 to 100 bushels an acre. The crop is a hybrid developed by C. L. Gunn, president of the Illinois Crop Improvement Association and corn breeder for the DeKalb County Agricultural Association.

Either 11 or 12 huskers will compete in the state contest. The ten counties which set the highest records in the preliminary contests will send their champions to the state meet. Last year's state champion, Irvin Baum, Woodford county, will also be invited to defend his 1935 laurels. DeKalb county's champion will husk in the state event, whether or not he is one of the ten high county winners.

Prize for the champion of Illinois' corn fields is $75 in cash and a trip to the National contest with all expenses paid. Other high winners in the state contest will receive prizes of $35; $20, $12.50 and $7.50. The runner-up will also be eligible to compete in the National contest.

Lasting 80 minutes, the contest is conducted under strict rules and the winner is selected by weighing the amount of corn husked in the allotted time. Deductions are made from the gross weight score for gleanings, corn the contestant failed to pick from the stalks assigned to him or corn he failed to throw into his wagon.

Three from This County Will Attend State Meet

Morgan county will send three delegates to the third rural youth conference at the College of Agriculture at Urbana Sept. 26, Farm Adviser W. A. Coolidge has announced. Those who plan to attend the conference are Wilbur Reid, Harold Lonergan and Harold Hembrough.

R. R. Hudelson, assistant dean of the agricultural college, is chairman of the conference, the theme of which will be "New Concepts of Rural Citizenship." Each county in the state is slated to send delegates to the meeting where the young people will discuss the problems encountered in the past year and make plans for the future.

The meeting is part of a definite state-wide program which the College of Agriculture has been carrying on for several years with rural young people. Total enrollment is now about 5,000.

Cooperating with the agricultural college to make the session a success are the state normal schools, the Illinois Church Council, vocational agriculture teachers, county groups of young people and the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Featuring the morning program will be an address on "New Concepts of Rural Citizenship," by Dr. John R. Barton, University of Wisconsin.

Five minute reports on young people's activities will be given by representatives from DeKalb, Macon, De Witt, LaSalle and Marshall-Pulaski counties, and D. S. McIntosh, of the Southern Illinois State Teachers College, will talk on the folk music of southern Illinois.

Need for uniformity in a name, plan of procedure and activities of young people's groups and entertainment by young people's organizations will also be discussed at the conference.

Farm Leaders Lead Farm Sports Festival

Enthusiasm for the recent Illinois Farm Sports Festival at Champaign-Urbana in which more than 60 Illinois Farm Bureaus actively took part has prompted a widespread demand that the project be made a permanent affair, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association.

In response to this sentiment, directors of the Association, meeting in Chicago, Sept. 18, authorized that a questionnaire be sent to each County Farm Bureau in Illinois to get a statewide expression on the continuation of the enterprise.

Score of favorable letters and comments were received at IAA headquarters on the two-day Festival which brought out a crowd estimated at around 30,000.

Livestock Mart
Remains Steady

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(P)—The pressure which has given livestock values a definite downward trend this week eased somewhat today with the falling off of receipts and dealings throughout the session were near a steady basis.

Supplies in all branches of the trade contracted to a volume more nearly in line with packers' requirements. Buyers were a little more willing to absorb offerings, with values considerably lower than a week ago in hogs, cattle and sheep departments. Cattle losses for the week range from 25 to 50 cents, hogs have lost 40 cents but lambs show an even greater decline.

Hogs were mostly steady, with spots stronger early in the day, but the market closed with this early strength low. Sows were weak to 10 cents lower. Top of $10.25 was 5 cents below yesterday's best price. Livestock men said current receipts indicated producers are making full clearance of supplies in order to save feed costs.

Shippers paid fully steady prices for better grade steers and yearlings but middle and lower grades were weak. The $10.30 top was paid for yearlings while $10 was the best price claimed for weighty steers.

Lambs recovered somewhat from the recent price slump which has carried values to the lowest level of the year. The bulk sold steady to strong, the small open market supply being the strengthening factor. Prices for best native ranged from $9 to $9.25.

Chicago Livestock

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs 9,000 including 2,000 direct; closing mostly steady, early strength lost; sows weak to 10 lower; top 10.25; bulk desirable 200-250 lbs. 9.85-10.20; practically no heavy butchers offered; most well finished 140-200 lbs. 8.65-10.00; best sows 9.20; shippers 2,000; estimated holdover 2,000.

Cattle 5,000; calves 1,000; better grade steers and yearlings fully steady on shipper account; middle and lower grades weak; there being slightly more common and medium grade steers, mostly short feds in crop; top 10.30 on yearlings, 10.00 on weighty steers, these coming around 1,800 lbs.; lower grades 8.50 down to 7.60; stockers and feeders 25-50 lower on the week, dull at decline; all cows strong to 15 higher; bulls 10-15 higher and vealers 25 higher; best sausage bulls 5.75; inbetween grades showing most advance; largely 11.00 market on choice vealers, few 11.50; weighty steers closing the week about 25 lower; yearlings steady.

Sheep 10,000 including 6,800 direct; fat lambs moderately active; bulk steady to strong on small saleable supply; sheep little changed; feeding lambs relatively scarce about steady; bulk native lambs 9.00-9.25; top at outside; most westerns 8.50-9.00; native ewes 2.50-3.50; half dock 73 lb. black faced feeding lambs 8.35.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ALTHOUGH we see only one face of the moon, its axis is inclined at an angle of about six and one-half degrees to its orbit, so that we can see alternately about six and one-half degrees beyond its poles. Also, when the moon is rising, we can see about one degree around its western edge, and we can see a degree beyond its eastern edge when it is setting.

Legionnaires Name Colmery New Commander

Cleveland, O. — (AP) — With a rising shout and a parade of the standards of every Legion department, the American Legion today unanimously elected Harry W. Colmery of Topeka, Kansas, national commander by acclamation.

Immediately upon the announcement of the election, crowds of veterans carrying the standards of their states rushed to the platform and gathered around Colmery at the speaker's stand.

As the band struck up a fast tune, outgoing Commander Ray Murphy stepped close to Colmery in the crush on the platform.

"I declare Harry Colmery elected," yelled Murphy above the din. "Where the hell is he?" as he looked about the hall.

The championship drum and bugle corps from Chicago's Commonwealth Edison Post struck up "Hail to the Chief."

"You are mighty nice to me," Colmery said. "To be chosen as the leader of a million men, American men of arms as I know them, is a sacred trust. I accept not for the purpose of fulfilling personal ambitions, but as an opportunity to render service to my comrades through the Legion and through it to my country."

"Under our democratic system, you gentlemen, here under the representative form of the Legion's government, determine its policies. My job is merely to administer and execute them."

"I am sure that I will have your sincere and enthusiastic support in every department throughout the Legion."

"To a program of administration characterized by courage instead of cowardice, sincerity, not hypocrisy, and to make the Legion worthy of the ideals of those who founded it, I dedicate myself."

"We must always be ready to exemplify the clause in the preamble of our own constitution, that of making right the cause of might."

"I think the nation is still looking to the Legion for leadership. Our only danger lies in our own apathy and sticking our nose in other people's business instead of keeping it within our own Legion confines."

"Maybe," he said, "we can improve. We can accelerate our progress if we look forward, rather than look backward."

The Legion affirmed its belief in the Monroe Doctrine as a measure of peace and opposed entry of the United States into the League of Nations by a thumping, unanimous vote.

The vote came on the presentation of the foreign relations committee report by Chairman John R. Decker of Colorado.

The veterans also approved a resolution opposing any modification of cancellation of war debts and voted to recall all future loans to nations in default in their war debts.

Another resolution urged the United States government to maintain a strict policy of neutrality and remain "free of any alliance which might draw the country into war."

The delegates condemned activities of the Black Legion and asked Congress to investigate the hooded order. It also suggested publicity to prevent any danger of confusing Black Legion and the American Legion.

A resolution recommending universal fingerprinting of the civil population of the country and a system of identification for all non-citizens with legislation to make the system effective as a national policy was adopted.

The Legionnaires voted to make an employment program a major policy and reaffirmed their "condemnation of mob violence and lynching throughout the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ornellas will leave Friday for Long Beach, Calif., where they will make an extended stay and may reside permanently.

General Pershing, with the constant knowledge and approval of President Wilson, insisted on carrying out his orders, and while at every crisis he relaxed this policy, as was superbly acknowledged by General Pershing (commander-in-chief of the Allied armies) he did insist on the formation of American divisions, army corps and a field army."

General Pershing, in Paris, declined to "make any comment whatsoever."

Miss Dollie Tribbett was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday from the Concord community.

Mrs. W. M. Smith was in the city yesterday from Waverly.

FOR RESULTS—ADVERTISE.

Five national vice presidents also were elected without contest. These were Mrs. W. S. Deweese, Troy, O.; central division; Mrs. Florence Snodgrass, Phoenix, Ariz., western division; Mrs. J. J. Bromley, Springfield, Vt., eastern division; Mrs. Ella O'Brien, Denver, Colo., northwestern division; and Mrs. J. Allison Hardy, Columbus, Miss., southern division.

The new officers were installed immediately in colorful ceremonies. The new president received her official sash and colors from Mrs. Donald McCrae Jr., a past national president.

Mrs. Hahn, who is 36, succeeds Mrs. Melville Muckelstone of Chicago.

Henry C. Forber was a caller here yesterday from Kane.

Elected Commander American Legion

HARRY W. COLMERY

Large Student Body Hears McClelland At Opening Chapel

Main Concern of MacMurray College Is Education Says Speaker

The largest student body in MacMurray history heard an inspiring address by President C. P. McClelland at the opening chapel of the year, held yesterday afternoon. The need for a re-dedication to the seeking of spiritual values upon the part of both students and faculty was his subject.

The speaker began by remarking that the college is just opening its sixty-sixth year. After a brief recital of the splendid material benefits the college has recently enjoyed he pointed out that fine and necessary as these buildings and "tools" are, the main concern of the college is education. This, he held, is a process which continues throughout life, the object of which is the apprehension and comprehension of Truth—the search for spiritual values. And of these spiritual values, he concluded, the supreme one is God.

The Russian attempt to abolish God by statute, and stop all free inquiry into spiritual matters was cited as what can occur, and is apt to occur, where the state becomes the be all and end all and attains an absolute mastery over the lives of citizens. That Germany, for a hundred years the home of free inquiry and light, should have also started down this road, was held to be another indication of the dangerous materialistic and nationalistic tendencies at work in so many countries today. The Germans, the speaker pointed out, have refused to recognize universal values and have tried to maintain the existence of some peculiar values in German art, German morality, German justice, which may not be shared by Jews and other non-Germanic peoples.

The antidote to all this, according to Dr. McClelland, is that free and untrammelled search for truth which is the highest function in universals, he declared—in a universal Truth, and Beauty and Righteousness.

The chapel service included an organ prelude by Henry Ward Pearson and a violin solo by Donna Watson, accompanied by Miss Mahala McGhee. Registration was completed for the upperclassmen yesterday, while freshmen were being initiated into the mysteries of the library. Classes will begin at eight o'clock this morning, and the day's program will include the usual Friday morning chapel.

Final figures regarding registration were not available last night, but it was evident that the college was crowded as it has never been before, and that the new dormitory which is to be built this winter is badly needed. Bids for the construction of the building will be opened October 6, and it is expected that the contract will be let and building operations started shortly after that date.

The new freshman class has drawn its members from an even greater distance than did last year's class. A half-dozen girls from Montana and Wyoming represent the western limit while a group from the Hudson valley suburbs of New York City are the extreme easterners. The already rather large groups from our neighboring States, Iowa and Indiana have received considerable reinforcements. Large groups from Chicago and St. Louis and their suburbs have strengthened the big-city element in the class. The newcomers were welcomed by old students at a college sing last night. On Wednesday evening they were edited and entertained by a clever skit illustration "Customs and Traditions of MacMurray College." The athletic association will be hostesses to a college picnic to be held at Nichols Park Saturday noon.

PhoneDirectoryHas Interesting Names

Book Listed at Local Exchange Outlines Objects, Conditions

The new directory which will go to press within a few days for the Jacksonville exchange of the Illinois Telephone Company contains a number of interesting names. For instance, if you are interested in royalty, you will find listed in this directory three Kings, three Knights, one Kaiser, one Duke and one Prince. If you are interested in religious matters you will find an Angel, a Bishop, a Priest, an Abbott, one Christian, several Baptists, a Harp and a Bell.

Naturally the telephone directory is a good place to look for groceries. In this directory you will find listed Bacon, Rice and a Berry. If you are interested in birds, you will find a Crane, three Drakes, one Finch, a Crow, three Hawks and a Parrot. The only flower we found listed is a Rose, although there also is a Thorne and Holley.

In considering the fruit there is a Cherry. A list of farm products seems to be somewhat limited as the only ones represented are Cane and Hay. The furniture is also limited as the only thing useful along this line is a Davenport and a Range. However, a number of items essential in connection with a home: Kitchen, Walls, Garrett, Halls, Posts, Hooks, Combs, and an Axe are found. There is no clock but a Dial and if you are patriotic you may wish to look for a Flag.

There are several different colors represented in the directory, including Black, Blue, Brown, Gray, Green and White. There are several names that call to mind the pleasing sights when you visit the country. There are Hills, Lanes, a Poole, Woods, Groves, Stones, Moss and Mills. You will also see a Cloud, some Waters and will find Bridges to cross; if you stay until it rains, you may even see a Flood. In case you wish to rest under a tree, we have an Ash and a Pine to offer.

The English, French and German nationalities are represented in this directory. If you are a sportsman and interested in hunting, you will find several Harts, a Wolfe, Coons, Beavers and a Fox. There are several Hunters in the directory who will probably need a Horn when they go after the big game. The domestic animals were not so numerous, a Lamb and a Bull.

In the clothing line there are Caps and Coats, while there is a Ring and a Ruby to use for jewelry. The miscellaneous professions and trades are liberally represented. There are Archers, Bakers, Barbers, Butchers, Butlers, Cooks, Coopers, Drivers, Farmers, Fishers, Gardeners, Masons, Millers, Pottery, Smiths, and Walkers. There are several names that indicate amount, size, or strength, such as: Mutch, Bigger, Little, Large, Long, Short, Stout, and Sturdy.

West seems to be the only direction mentioned in this directory. However, there are Summers and Winters to offer as seasons, and the month of May. A number of Days, and even a Holiday are found. The only automobile found listed was a Ford. There are several names that indicate emotions or state of mind, such as: Love, Joy, Moody, Meeker, Wise and Frank. If you look closely, you may even find your Self—both Boddy and Poote.

WOODSON TEACHERS ATTEND INSTITUTE

Chandlerville GOP Women Hold Meet; Elect Officers

Republican Woman's Organization Meets; Hear Candidates

Chandlerville, Sept. 24.—Republican Women of Panther Creek and Chandlerville precincts met Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Town Hall for organization of The Republican Women's Organization of these precincts.

Mrs. B. F. Carr, Panther Creek Precinct chairman, presided at the gathering of between 75 and 100 women, and introduced Hardin Hanks of Beardstown, Republican candidate for State Attorney of Cass county who gave the opening address. He was followed by the Cass County candidate for coroner, Mr. Mullaney also of Beardstown, who spoke on party issues.

Mrs. Beulah McClure, county chairman of Republican Women's Organizations was introduced and discussed the immediate organization work of Cass women. The assembly voted itself ready to organize and elected the following officers:

Mrs. Earl Devering, President. Mrs. Harry Watkins, Vice-President.

Miss Lucile Garner, Secretary and Treasurer. Committee will be formed at the next meeting, set for Thursday evening, October 1st at the home of Mrs. B. F. Carr on Cottage avenue. Definite plans for the campaign work will also be discussed at this meeting and additional membership canvass continued. Mrs. B. F. Carr will continue her work as precinct chairman of Panther Creek and Mrs. Gretchen Aye, as precinct chairman of Chandlerville precinct.

K.C. Supper Club Members Hear Talks By State Officers

Initial Meeting of Season Is Held at Local Club Rooms Thursday

The initial meeting of the K. of C. Supper Club season was held at the club rooms Thursday morning. The occasion, which was one of the most successful of any session held by this organization, was attended by over two hundred members of the local and Beardstown, Springfield and Carrollton councils. The meeting was called to order by Grand Knight Alfred Rodemich, who introduced a chicken supper had been enjoyed. Grand Knight Rodemich introduced James T. Magner, district deputy of this district, who in turn introduced the first speaker of the evening State Deputy Michael J. Howlett of Chicago, who spoke on the subject: "Why I am a Knight of Columbus."

In developing this subject he traced the history of the Knights of Columbus in Illinois from the founding of the first council in the state of Illinois up to the present. He particularly stressed the need today of a strong Catholic organization to cooperate with other civic and patriotic organizations in combating various movements which are fighting religion and the American form of government at the present time. His final plea was for the organization of every Catholic man through the Knights of Columbus to the end that if the need should arise they would be ready for defense of their faith and country.

Mr. Rose, state advocate of the order, who was the next speaker on the program stressed the need of the younger members of the order to take the burden of carrying on the work of the order, because of the aggressiveness which only youth can put into an organization.

The final speaker, Henry Lynch, president of the K. of C. Home Finding Association, told of the work which that organization is doing. This organization which finds homes for the orphan children of Catholic parents in this state has found a home for every orphan child in all the Catholic orphanages in the state for a number of years. Teachers, Parents Need Understanding Says Hygiene Director

Ruth O. McCann, director of the Society of Mental Hygiene, Chicago, concluded the Thursday program of the Morgan County Teachers' Institute, which opened here Thursday morning, with a plea for teachers and parents to approach a common understanding of the problems involved in the successful education of youth. This factor occupied an important place in her discussion. "What criteria do we have for judging our success as teachers?"

Morgan county school teachers at the opening session of the institute joined the 40,000 members of the state teachers' association in urging legislative assistance for the schools. A resolution was unanimously adopted for the submission of five questions to legislative candidates in the 45th senatorial district to ascertain their stand on school matters.

Victor Sheppard, county superintendent, and Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent of Jacksonville schools, appeared at the first institute session, explaining the legislative program the state association is endeavoring to carry out.

Miss McCann, a former public school teacher, particularly stressed the word "success," pointing out that educative training in the past had too often pointed out the failures in the system to achieve a negative result. Her criteria of success were relegated into two divisions, the teacher as a person, and also as a competent instructor. The following question should be uppermost in the former respect, "Am I a comfortable person to have around?" and another important query, "Do I know how to get real satisfaction out of my job?"

The individual who circulates a feeling of comfort among others, who takes real pleasure in the daily tasks and not merely the results of the job can be assured of attaining success from this point of view. The speaker then turned to the educative requirements of success in the profession, naming of importance the relationships of teacher with teacher, necessity of a perpetual "learning attitude," the ability to play and find recreation as part of the regular program. The day was past, she maintained, when the teacher was known by her stern, forbidding and old-maidish appearance.

Urges Inspection. Miss McCann then urged that the teacher inspect the general atmosphere of her school room, examining the situation with the following questions, "Do I like to teach?" "Do I really like children?" "Do I encourage them without indulging in meaningless over-praise?" and "Am I letting this children grow independent in a natural way?"

Finally, the speaker said, no illusions should be entertained that all of these criteria of personal success as a teacher could or should be attained. Principles of psychology hold the unusual tenet that failure must follow perfection. In other words, the instructor who feels that he is capable in every qualification listed in these criteria has reached a point of stagnation and smugness. Failure must not overshadow the daily gains, but the greatest attainment and result in the development of children is built on conquering today the failures of yesterday.

General assembly addresses during the morning were given by Mrs. Ruth O. McCann, director of the Society for Mental Hygiene, Chicago, and Miss Vivian Harris, St. Louis, national representative of the American Red Cross. There were a number of sectional conferences for high school and grade teachers.

At the opening session Dr. Stoops was called upon by the county superintendent to outline the school situation in the state. Dr. Stoops said there is now a deficiency of $7,000,000 in the distributive fund, and that the state teachers' association is urging the legislature to take some action.

For the past five years the state has failed to distribute to the elementary schools in full the sums regularly appropriated. Legislative candidates in this district will be asked their attitude toward the matter.

Up to the present the state has regularly given support from the state treasury only to the elementary schools, the state teachers' colleges and the University of Illinois. The county teachers yesterday resolved to learn the attitude of candidates toward providing state aid for the public high schools as well as for the other branches of the educational system.

Dr. Stoops, reading from a list of questions prepared by the state teachers' association, said New York provides from state funds about one-third the cost of public education. California provides a distribution of $90 per high school pupil and $60 per elementary pupil. Indiana provides approximately $600 per instruction unit, the instruction unit being 25 pupils in high school and 33 pupils in the elementary grades. Illinois distributes only $11 per pupil in the elementary grades and nothing to its high schools.

Teachers Urge State Board. Illinois is now one of only a few states which do not have a state planning board, commonly known as a state board of education. The Morgan county institute joined in asking legislative candidates their opinion as to the value of such a board of education. The city and county superintendents were authorized by a vote of the institute to ascertain the stand of all legislative candidates in the district on the questions.

The Waverly High school band occupied the stage at the beginning of the institute, playing a half hour concert. The band, regarded as one of the best school musical organizations downstate, presented a fine appearance in white suits and dresses, with black ties.

Mrs. McCann in her lecture, "Some Suggestions for Keeping a Healthy Mind," declared that "worry is a circle of inefficient thought, whirling about a pivot of fear." She gave the teachers a number of suggestions to improve personal philosophy, and said that the attitude of teachers is more essential than their training. "It isn't so much what you know, it's how you feel," she said.

Emotions Can Be Ally. "Mental hygiene is the wise use of one's emotional capital," the speaker stated. "It is not a thing in which one may take a course and expect to immediately apply it. Rather, it affects profoundly attitudes toward ourselves, toward children and their discipline, toward standards of behavior, toward our husbands and wives, and even determines the tempo of living. Attitudes are laid down in early childhood and once laid down they are sometimes difficult to modify. They come from our parents, how they feel about each other and how they feel about us, from the actual training of the things they felt, rather than said. Attitudes come from our experiences, schooling, the teachers we have admired, our successes, our failures, the person we married or didn't marry, our economic status, and to a less degree from our actual knowledge."

"Dr. Austen Riggs has made a number of common sense suggestions for directing one's emotions. He said individuals should admit their existence and use them as driving power; don't drive your facks with a sledge hammer, there is an easier way; try to do one thing at a time; refuse to be hurried; know that worry is the best ally of nervousness. Make decisions, practical decisions, and when they are reached, carry them out as soon as possible. Keep work, rest, play and exercise in their proper proportions every day."
